Farmers of County Vote 15-to-1 to Continue Corn-Hog Control

RETENTION OF PLAN WINS IN NATION

Only 16 Producers In This Area Ballot On Referendum

AAA CHIEFS PLEASSED

Incomplete Returns In U. S. Reveal 386,643 'Yes'; 67,511 'No'

Orange county corn and hog producers today had joined with thousands of others throughout the nation in overwhelming approval of retaining the government's corn-hog control program in 1936. At the referendum Saturday, 15 local producers favored continuation of the project while only one opposed it. Latest reports on the national vote, compiled by the Associated Press, placed it at 386,643 farmers favoring the program and 67,511 opposed to it.

The corn-hog program provides for limitation of production, with adjustment of payments to farmers based on their curtailment, it was explained today by Assistant Farm Advisor W. M. Cory.

Voting Done Here

Balloting for Orange county was conducted at the home of Dr. C. E. Price, 1001 Hickory street. The polls were open until 10 p. m. Saturday. Four producers who had signed contracts under the program last year voted to continue, while none of the contract signers opposed continuation. Ten producers who did not sign contracts last year favored the program and one opposed it.

An Associated Press dispatch from Washington said that Agricultural Adjustment administration chiefs, obviously pleased with the results of the vote, planned today to answer some of their critics by increasing pork production next year.

Just Fraction Voted

The total vote represented only a fraction of the 4,500,000 farmers who produced some corn and hogs this year. But AAA officials said at least 2,500,000 farmers raised corn and hogs for home consumption.

AAA officials indicated the increase would be 25 to 30 per cent over this year. Present high prices of pork have been much discussed recently, with critics of the New Deal stressing them, and (Please Turn to Page 2, Col. 1)

Farm Advisor Harold Wahlberg can show you some pretty hot stuff when he wants to. And he can take you where things get kind of rough, too.

"Why don't you go out and see what the windstorm did to some of the walnut orchards?" he asked me the other day.

"I'd like to if I could find time," I told him, figuring maybe he'd offer to take me in his car.

Saturday afternoon he came by the office with a visitor to whom he was showing the country.

"Why don't you come along?" he said, not knowing that was what I'd been angling for all the time.

Judge Tells Grand Jury to Do Work In Hurry and Not Waste Funds Of Taxpayers

Orange county's 1935-36 grand jury was advised not to "waste time making useless reports and recommendations to which no one ever paid any attention" by Presiding Judge James L. Allen of the superior court today when he drew the 19 members of the panel of 30 called into court. W. W. Hay was appointed foreman by the court.

After reading the stereotyped instructions for the inquisitorial body, Judge Allen added some special advice in which he said that there is no need for the jury wasting four or five months on a job that should be completed within 30 days.

Members of the grand jury are paid $3 per day and mileage for each day they are in session. He advised employment of an auditor, to make the annual check on the finances of all cities and the county, who will agree to complete the task within 30 days. "There is no reason," he said, "why this grand jury cannot be through with its job and dismissed before Christmas."

Sees No Need Of Them

"I have often wondered why we have a grand jury, after reading the stereotyped instructions to be given each succeeding group. The only authority given your organization, under the law, is the returning of indictments and the annual investigation to ascertain of all county funds, and those of the various cities are being properly administered.

"Aside from the two duties already mentioned, I can see no need for a grand jury. It has no power or authority, and the time spent in preparing recommendations as to changes in the methods of operating county offices to my mind is wasted. Heads of the departments pay no attention to the recommendations and there is nothing the grand jury can do to enforce the carrying out of recommendations."

Preceding grand juries were criticized for taking too much time for their annual investigations.

'No Justification'

"For the past four or five years," Judge Allen said, "grand juries have stayed in session from three to five months doing a job that should have been completed in 30 days. With conditions such as they are at present I can see no justification for this grand jury wasting the taxpayers' money with investigations and recommendations that will not be observed and cannot be enforced by the grand jury."

Members of the 1935-36 grand jury are H. N. White, Samuel Miller, Mrs. Sue D. Shafer, George E. Peters, Arthur Woodworth, Harold C. Woodward, Oscar Leichtfuss, H. G. Schmeizer, R. B. Newcomb, Jules Markel, Paul Muench, W. M. Cookerly, Mrs. Charles Davis, W. W. Hay, Raymond C. Smith, D. W. Leyden, Harry Arthur, Sherman Gilgley and Mrs. Myrtle Sexton.

LONDON, Oct. 28. (AP)—

Authoritative sources suggested today that the present deadlock of Italo-Ethiopian peace proposals may continue "for a long time."

The week-end passed with no indication that Great Britain was willing to accept any peace suggestions so far advanced by Premier Mussolini of Italy through Premier Laval of France.

Informed sources said the British government was "not impressed" by last week's peace suggestions by Mussolini.

RUSSIA, JAPAN AND GERMANY WILL PUNISH

GENEVA, Oct. 28. (AP)—Russia today joined other powers in proclaiming an economic boycott of Italy as a League of Nations sanction.

Moscow telegraphed to the league announcing the Soviet's readiness to impose an embargo on the exportation of key products which can be used for the making of war munitions from Russia to Italy and an embargo on all imports from Italy to Russia from Italy.

Japan and Germany gave League of Nations officials reason to believe they will pattern their policies after that of the United States with respect to League sanctions against Italy.

Note From U. S.

League officials believe the American reply distinctly encouraging to its efforts to hasten the end of the war. They also believe Japan and Germany will do nothing to wreck the league sanction machinery against Mussolini, which the American note de-

TOLL IN HAITI MOUNTING

2000 Dead Or Missing In Floods Following Recent Hurricane

PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti, Oct. 28. (AP)—

At least 2000 persons are dead or missing in a storm which ravaged the southern peninsula of Haiti.

Most of the casualties were caused by floods which followed the hurricane a week ago. Thousands were reported homeless and hungry.

Populations of valley villages were believed to have been wiped out as rains sent the streams from their channels, demolishing the frail, thatched huts of the natives.

Information received here indicated the bodies of most of the missing were swept to sea.

Official reports, based on fragmentary data gathered by a small airplane, the only means of communication with the stricken districts, doubled the number of dead or missing after initial estimates Saturday had put the toll at possibly 1000.

Relief operations could not be instituted until the arrival of the Standard fruit steamer Truxton, delayed by strong winds north of Cuba. The boat was expected today.

'WILD' GUNMAN SHOTS JUDGE

CHICAGO, Oct. 28. (AP)—

William R. Fetzner, 62, former judge of the municipal court, was shot to death and two other men were seriously wounded today when a gunman, believed by police to have been a member of a local gang, fired from a second floor of a loop office building.

The supposed maniac then wounded himself, probably fatally. The wounded, William L. Hawthorne, a court reporter; Nathan Weintrob, 28, a law clerk in Fetzner's office; Richard Lanning, the assailant.

WOMAN DIES IN CRASH

County Traffic Death Toll at 50; Others Hurt in Accidents

Killed in county traffic accidents this year...

Orange county's toll of traffic fatalities for 1935, with two months yet to go, today was within two deaths of the total for the entire year 1934 as the result of four accidents over the week-end, which accounted for one death and injuries to five other persons.

Mrs. Lois Bower, 39, of route 4, box 444, Santa Ana, sustained fatal injuries at 2 a. m. yesterday in an automobile collision at Wintersburg avenue and Ward road, four miles south of Bolsa. Mrs. Bower was a passenger in a car driven by Lee D. Holliday, 19, Garden Grove, when Holliday's car collided with a machine driven by Waite Davis, 19, of 1301 Cypress street, Santa Ana.

Davis was arrested by highway patrolmen yesterday morning and lodged in the county jail, charged with negligent homicide. His bail was set at $1500 when he was arraigned this morning before Justice of the Peace Kenneth E. Morrison.

Miss Blanche Hartzell, 15, route 4, box 444, Santa Ana, also injured in the crash, was taken to the county hospital at 6:30 a. m. yesterday, more than four hours after the accident, suffering from fractured ribs, a back injury and a possible fractured pelvis. The body of Mrs. Bower was removed to the Smith and Tuthill mortuary in Santa Ana.

According to a report made by Highway Patrolman Ben Craig, evidence from skid marks indicated that Davis was traveling at (Please turn to Page 3, Col. 4)

Flood Rages In Honduras

TEGUCIGALPA, Honduras, Oct. 28. (AP)—The government today broadcast radio warnings to the inhabitants of the zone around the city of Progreso, ordering them to start for the mountains at once before the area is inundated by a river flood.

Government reports show that the river Comayagua was swelled by rains and was on its way to the Atlantic in a great flood, wrecking everything along its banks.

PICKERS OUT ON STRIKE

Mexican Consul Aide Here Says 500 Are Asking More Pay

Labor troubles between packing houses and Mexican orange pickers broke out again over the week-end, with many of the pickers going out on strike, according to Lucas Lucio, representative in Orange county for the Mexican consul.

Mr. Lucio estimated the number of strikers at 500 men, and said they were employees of the Golden West Citrus association at Tustin, Anaheim Orange and Lemon association, at Anaheim, and Consolidated Orange Growers, at Orange. He said that he and Vice Consul J. Hinojosa will meet with the workers tonight at the Chavez poolroom in Orange in an attempt to settle the trouble.

At the Anaheim Orange and Lemon association, F. H. Dugdale, assistant manager, said that, so far as he knew, all picking crews were at work today. J. H. Bray of the Golden West house was in the field and could not be reached. At the Consolidated Orange Growers, F. H. Collins said that some of the pickers for that house had been striking since last week, but that the number now out is negligible.

According to Mr. Lucio, the men were objecting to being forced to pick off bloom fruit before the regular crop as they do not collect bonuses until the regular crop is harvested. They also were objecting to being discharged from crews before the season ended, and in this way losing their bonuses.

Mr. Collins said that his house already has picked the regular crop and all bonuses have been paid. Men who refused to work for that house, he said, were demanding 10 cents per field box instead of the 8-cent scale being paid.

5000 GOOSE DINNERS GONE

NIAGARA FALLS Kills Fowl

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., Oct. 28. (AP)—

Because geese will be geese and all the game warden in the United States and Canada can't sway them either by logic or force 5000 good Christmas dinners are going over Niagara Falls today.

Traveling geese, for some reason best known to themselves annually stop at Niagara Falls, and 5000 of them lighten on the Niagara river just above the cataract last night.

Down the chutes they went to the very brink. Then, with great flapping of wings and honking of honkers, back they flew, lighted on the river and waited to repeat the process. This went on all night while frantic game wardens from both sides of the border plied them with shotguns, rockets and searchlights to no avail.

Flock Backs Move to Vote for Pension Candidates

CHICAGO, Oct. 28. (AP)—

The far-flung flock of Dr. Francis E. Townsend headed homeward today determined to follow its leader's counsel to vote for congressional candidates who favor pensions of $200 a month for citizens of 60 or more.

A crowd which officials of the Townsend organization estimated at nearly 10,000 cheered the California physician yesterday in the final demonstration of the four-day national convention of the Townsend clubs.

The 6000 delegates pledged themselves to spread the Townsend doctrine after hearing the physician say:

"We assert that this plan of wealth distribution will at once bring around a new and vigorous prosperity, and for this prosperity all should be willing and compelled to pay."

Wary fire fighters hastened to the territory between Castro peak and the head of Dume canyon to battle a fresh blaze threatening virgin timber brush and ranch lands.

BALZAR CALLED AIDE

Stock sold to Honolulu investors, according to prosecution witnesses, was signed in Nevada and shipped from there to the purchaser. Testimony also revealed that former Governor Fred Balzar of Nevada was Mr. Rhoades' chief lieutenant in that state.

The prosecution had rested its case Thursday just before adjournment, and O. A. Jacobs and C. B. Diehl, attorneys representing Mr. Rhoades, were expected to start their defense this morning. Had he been convicted, Mr. Rhoades faced a possibility of spending 20 years in San Quentin, according to Mr. McCabe.

WM. RHOADES KILLS SELF WITH GUN

Was Accused Of Theft Of Labor In Sinking Costa Mesa Well

STOCK SALES TOLD

Officers In Hollywood Find Out He Feared Outcome Of Case

On trial in superior court here on two charges of grand theft of labor, William Rhoades, 55, oil promoter, closed the case early this morning by firing a bullet from a .38 calibre pistol through his head at his home, 517 North Highland avenue, Hollywood. He left no note explaining his action.

Word of the suicide was received here this morning by Judge G. K. Scovel, department 3, superior court, who has been presiding in the trial. It came from Sam Rhoades, Newport Beach oil worker and brother of the dead man. Mr. Rhoades had been at liberty under $1000 bond.

Detective Lieutenants J. R. Stephens and W. A. Rathbun of the Hollywood police reported, an Associated Press dispatch said, that Mr. Rhoades had told a friend, W. H. Thompson, that he was afraid he was going to lose the trial because there was "so much perjury" involved. While Mr. Thompson was talking with Mrs. Rhoades, Mr. Rhoades went into the garage.

Deputy District Attorney Harold McCabe, in charge of prosecution of the case, confirmed the suicide report through the Los Angeles coroner's office.

Mr. Rhoades was accused of defrauding E. M. Putman and J. H. Herman, oil workers, of labor valued at more than $8500, in connection with the drilling of an oil well at Costa Mesa several years ago. According to testimony during the trial, all workers on the project were paid participating shares of stock in the well and small amounts of cash.

Overlooked Stock

Other testimony revealed that Mr. Rhoades had overlooked many times the shares of stock in the well. Principal among the amounts paid by stockholders was more than $125,000 received from investors in Honolulu. Mr. Rhoades also had admitted having sold large blocks of the stock in other states without having obtained a permit for the sales from the states.

Workers who accused Mr. Rhoades of swindling them of their labor charge that the agreement to accept stock for their labor, which was submitted in court, was not the same agreement they signed when they went to work. They charged that after obtaining their signatures Mr. Rhoades substituted a new pact prepared by himself.

Balzar Called Aide

Stock sold to Honolulu investors, according to prosecution witnesses, was signed in Nevada and shipped from there to the purchaser. Testimony also revealed that former Governor Fred Balzar of Nevada was Mr. Rhoades' chief lieutenant in that state.

The prosecution had rested its case Thursday just before adjournment, and O. A. Jacobs and C. B. Diehl, attorneys representing Mr. Rhoades, were expected to start their defense this morning. FEDERAL INSPECTORS ARRIVE TO TEST COUNTY DAIRY CATTLE

20 OFFICIALS WILL CHECK ON HERDS

U. S. Men Resisted In North, But Greeted Well In South

Federal livestock inspectors, the vanguard of more than 20 men who will remain in the county for three weeks, arrived today and started the annual tuberculosis test of dairy cattle. When the task is completed, according to Dr. Bower, county livestock inspector, more than 17,000 head of cattle will have been given the test.

The tests, formerly given by state inspectors, was taken over this year by the federal government under the Jones-Connelly act which set aside $3,000,000 for the project in this state. To qualify for the service it was necessary that all state veterinarians be loaned to the federal government for the next nine months.

Resistance Told
According to Dr. Bower, when the federal tests were started in the northern part of California it met with considerable resistance on the part of operators of large dairy herds. In several instances the fight was taken into court and the government agents were enjoined from continuing the tests.

With the injunctions issued it was decided to withdraw all inspectors from northern areas and transfer their activities to Southern California pending settlement of the difficulty. Los Angeles county already has adopted an ordinance prohibiting the importation of milk or any milk products from areas where tests are refused. A similar ordinance, according to Dr. Bower, is being prepared for adoption in San Francisco.

Welcome Test Here
Most dairy farmers in Orange county, said Dr. Bower, welcome the tests and already have filed applications for check-ups on herds. He said that the federal agents plan an almost house-to-house canvass in an effort to examine every cow.

Following the general test, now in progress, the agents will return in six months and again examine herds where stock re-acted to the serum. After the second check, Dr. Martin Hull, federal inspector living in Santa Ana, and Dr. Bowers will have charge of the cleanup and sanitation of dairies where serum reactors were found.

Wallace Tells Aim
While the aim will be to increase production, Secretary of Agriculture Wallace was quick to assert that efforts will be made to avoid "excessive over-production in subsequent years."

Farmers in 48 states voted in the referendum Saturday. Incomplete returns today showed that 386,643 favored an adjustment program in 1936 to 67,511 opposed. These totals included both farmers who signed contracts to control their production in return for government benefit payments, and others who did not.

MORE ABOUT ETHIOPIA

scribed by implication as a machinery of peace.

An authoritative Japanese spokesman told the Associated Press Japan has refrained from granting any licenses for the shipment of armaments or war materials either to Ethiopia or Italy.

This policy, he said, will doubtless be continued without the formality of Japan proclaiming an arms embargo.

The league's member states lined up swiftly in favor of sanctions against Italy to force a halt in its warfare on Ethiopia.

Two Set Pace

Great Britain and France set the pace as the league sent a message to its members throughout the world to give notice by today of the date when they believed they could apply an economic boycott against Italy.

The call was issued in preparation for a meeting on Oct. 31 of the general sanctions staff of 52 nations to fix the date when the boycott will be imposed on the warring fascist regime.

U. S. Note Approved

The note from the United States government, replying to notification by the league of its judgment against Italy and enforcement of its punitive measures, received favorable comment in league quarters.

Some delegates gave importance to the last sentence of the note, which said the United States "views with sympathetic interest the individual or concerted efforts of other nations to preserve peace or to localize and shorten the duration of the war."

ITALIAN POSITION NOW 'INVULNERABLE'

By ANDRUE BERDING

(Copyright, 1935, by Associated Press)

ENTISSEO, Ethiopia, 12:20 p. m., Oct. 28.—Officers declared today that the Italian position between Aduwa and Adigrat now was strengthened to a degree believed invulnerable to any Ethiopian counter attack.

It was said that the high command believed Saturday's advance by the northern forces blasted any hope which the Ethiopians may have held of forming a wedge between the two columns commanded by Gen. Emilio de Bono.

The officers explained that the Italian stand between Aduwa and Adigrat would have been vulnerable if the Ethiopians had attacked in sufficient force but that now the whole territory had been solidified behind a strong line advanced well beyond the two northern Ethiopian cities.

De Bono arrived here today and promptly went forward and took possession of the new territory, giving the orders for the consolidation of the new positions.

Premier Mussolini has demonstrated that he intends to develop gold-mining in Tigre province, now under Italian control, without waiting for the end of the war.

Important Advance
The new drive, which started Oct. 26, won water and an important new foothold for the Fascist blackshirt forces.

The central column under Gen. Alessandro Pirzio-Biroli advanced 20 kilometers (12½ miles) to occupy the Feres Mai valley—the first important advance since the Italian troops halted on the 60-mile former front line from Aksum to Adigrat.

The spearhead of the attack was poised today in the heights looking down the remainder of the line of march to Makale, strategic site 60 miles southwest of Aduwa.

Air scouts reported no concentration of Ethiopians ahead.

ITALIANS HALF WAY ACROSS DRY DESERT

DJIBOUTI, French Somaliland, Oct. 26. (Delayed).—(P)—The Italian southern army was reported here today to have crossed nearly half of the waterless desert which barred it from the foothills of Ogaden province in Ethiopia.

This action was one the right flank of the southern army as it made a renewed advance, preceded by tanks and bombing planes. The army now was understood to hold a front of over 400 miles running from British Somaliland to the junction of Kenya and the Jubia territory.

Three main bodies of troops were making this preliminary phase of the invasion of southeastern Ethiopia.

EVACUATION ORDERED: NATIVES FEAR RAID

ADDIS ABABA, Oct. 28.—(Exchange Telegraph).—The civil population of Makale was ordered to evacuate the town today in expectation of an Italian offensive.

Makale will not be defended as part of the plan to permit the Italians to advance far into Ethiopia before launching a counter-attack.

DOCTORS MEET IN CALIFORNIA

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 28. (P)—Honoring the Pacific coast for the first time, the American College of Surgeons will convene its 25th annual clinical congress here Oct. 28 to Nov. 1.

A class of about 500 young surgeons probably will sign the college roll this year, and be entitled hereafter to write "F.A.C.S." (Fellow of the American College of Surgeons) after their names.

In addition, officials of the college say they expect some 2,000 surgeons and 1,200 hospital people to be in attendance at sessions and clinics.

The purpose of the congress is dissemination of knowledge of important discoveries. It was founded in 1910 to improve surgical standards, and now has about 12,000 fellows. Each must have been out of college eight years and had at least two years of post-graduate training in his specialty.

The college inspects hospitals throughout North and South America, issuing an "approved" list of those meeting requirements as to surgical, medical, and nursing care for patients.

This year's congress will open at the War Memorial Opera House here Monday evening, Oct. 28. The retiring president, Dr. Robert B. Greenough of Boston, will speak on "The Consciousness of the Surgeon."

The president-elect, Dr. Donald C. Balfour of Rochester, Minn., and other officers-elect will be inaugurated.

FISH RESCUE PONDS TO BE DEVELOPED IN CALIFORNIA

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 28. (P)—Negotiations were completed recently by George D. Nordenholt, state director of natural resources, for the purchase of a site half a mile northeast of Elk Grove, Sacramento county, for the development of fish rescue ponds and hatcheries of the spiny ray variety.

The state fish and game commission has approved acquisition of 40 acres of land and contracts for the purchase are pending before the state finance department.

Mr. Nordenholt said development will be financed in its early stages as a Works Progress administration undertaking, and probably later as a state project.

VISITORS NOT TO PAY NEW STATE INCOME TAX

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 28. (P)—Residents or citizens of other states who visit California for an indeterminate period will not have to pay the California personal income tax, said Charles J. McColgan, commissioner, who has charge of collecting the tax.

"For information of residents and citizens of other states who spend or contemplate spending an indeterminate time, as tourists, or winter or summer visitors in California," Mr. McColgan said, "the new California personal income tax act will not cost them one cent unless they derive taxable income from sources within the state."

NAVAL MAN HELD ON DRIVING COUNT AFTER COAST WRECK

Eugene Earl La Bonte, 36, Naval Air Base, San Diego, was booked at the county jail on Saturday charged with reckless driving as the result of a traffic accident at Cypress street and the Coast highway in Laguna Beach early the same day, and is held under $2000 bail following his arraignment in the Laguna Beach justice court. His trial is to be held at 10 a. m. next Thursday at Laguna Beach.

La Bonte assertedly drove a car which collided with a machine operated by Tom Harper, Laguna Beach architect. Mr. Harper is suffering from severe shock and his brother, R. Irwin Harper, also of Laguna Beach, suffered several lacerations about the head. Miss Kay Jones, San Diego, a passenger in the La Bonte car, suffered a fractured leg and lacerations on the face. A fourth passenger in the La Bonte car, W. Dalgren, Naval Air Base, suffered minor injuries.

BORAH LEADS STATE POLL IN CHOICE FOR PRESIDENT

SANTA BARBARA, Oct. 28. (P)—A poll of the Republican county chairmen of California conducted by the Santa Barbara Morning Press revealed Senator Borah of Idaho favored for president and Governor Merriam of California for vice president.

The poll represented 44 of the state's 58 counties for president and 42 for vice president. Five of the 58 counties have no Republican county organization, the Press reported from the list provided by Earl Warren of Oakland, chairman of the Republican state central committee.

Five of the 53 chairmen listed made no reply to a second request, and four others declined to make any choice.

Choice for President

The first choice for President listed by the 44 county chairmen who replied showed Senator Borah, 16; Herbert Hoover, 5; Col. Frank Knox of Chicago, 4; Senator McNary of Oregon, 4; Governor Merriam, 2; Governor Landon of Kansas, 2; Ogden Mills, 2, and one vote for each of the following: Chief Justice Hughes of the supreme court, Representative Hamilton Fish of New York; John Winant, former governor of New Hampshire; Senator LaFollette of Wisconsin; Lewis Douglas of Arizona; Senator Norris of Nebraska; Senator Vandenberg of Michigan; Senator Johnson of California; and Mayor LaGuardia of New York.

For Vice President

FORMER SANTA ANA RESIDENT DIES IN VAN NUYS

Word that Beryl Wilson, former resident of Santa Ana and Irvine, died on Friday at 5:30 o'clock in Van Nuys, his present residence, was received in Santa Ana Saturday.

He had been a rancher in Van Nuys for the past seven years, was a member of the Elks, and served on ranchers' governing boards.

Services were to be held at the Schwinmily chapel, Van Nuys, at 11 a. m. today. Burial services were to be held at Fairhaven cemetery at 3 p. m.

The deceased is survived by his widow, Mrs. Mary Wilson; a sister, Mrs. Earl Lentz, Santa Ana; and two brothers, Oscar Wilson, Santa Ana, and Leo Wilson, Laguna Beach.

FOUR TAKE $280

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 28. (P)—Four men this morning trussed up the night watchman at a market, 4301 West Third street, opened the safe with an acetylene torch, and escaped with $280.

BEGIN NOV. 4 TO REMODEL THEATERS

Jules Markel, Santa Ana contractor, is going to start a "face lifting" job on the Fox West Coast theater Nov. 4. When that job is done he will perform a similar service, not quite so extensive, for the Broadway theater.

In other words Mr. Markel has been awarded a contract for renovating and reconditioning both playhouses. Placing of the contract was made public Saturday by Lester Fountain, manager of the two Santa Ana theaters. Mr. Fountain said the two jobs will cost approximately $30,000.

At the west Coast the lobby will be widened, a new marquee will be built. Rest rooms and the lounge will all be placed on the mezzanine floor. The interior of the theater will be reconditioned, as well as the heating and ventilating plants.

A new lobby and marquee will be given to the Broadway theater. New furniture and carpets will be installed and the heating and ventilating plants will be reconditioned. Doors will be placed on the aisles.

Mr. Fountain said that the West Coast theater will be closed after the performance of Nov. 3 and will remain closed for renovation until Dec. 1.

C. E. Walker, owner of Walker's State theater and the Temple theater, said today that his plans for remodeling the entire interior of the Temple theater are virtually complete and that he expects the work to start in two or three weeks. The theater room will be raised and the seating capacity increased from 600 to 900.

Dies at Hospital
Two ambulances, one from the Dixon mortuary in Huntington Beach, and the second from the Winbiger mortuary in Santa Ana, answered the call, and Mrs. Bower was taken to the county hospital in the Dixon ambulance, being received at 4:30 a. m. She expired at 11 o'clock last night. Because of a mixup in directions, the driver of the Winbiger ambulance could not find the scene of the accident at first, and after returning to Santa Ana, he received a second call and was given the proper directions. Miss Hartzel was found bundled up in blankets in the small shack of a Mexican family.

Sidney Standing, 2615 West First street, Santa Ana, is in the county hospital recovering from fractured ribs and possible internal injuries suffered at 8 p. m. Here and There With
The Journal's
Rambling County Editor
By T. N. (BRICK) GAINES

THE Imperial Highway association had a birthday party at Brea Saturday night.

It was a nice party, but we don't know about going to any more—became so enthusiastic that we lit out yesterday to see what sort of highway they've been bragging about. Found out that they have reason to be proud of their accomplishments. It's a good highway.

WE LEFT in the morning and hit the first stretch of the route through Santa Ana canyon. Through Corona, Glen Ivy, and past the site of the first house and postoffice in Riverside county to Elsinore. Then over excellent paved roads, with new shoulders which members were bragging about, to Temecula. Numerous Indians in Temecula. What is it they call those people—stoical, or stolid? These were both. Wouldn't even talk to each other, much less strangers. A hunch of the shoulder or a noncommittal grunt seemed to be their only means of communication. That, and a bottle of brandy.

Below Temecula, the road branches with the pavement going toward Escondido and a well-oiled stretch, still the Imperial highway, leading toward Warner's Hot Springs. Excellent road and beautiful semi-mountainous country for more than 20 miles. Wide curves, well banked, make driving safe at 45 or better. No traffic. Saw two other cars in the mile stretch of road once.

Old Butterfield stage station, still a beautiful structure, steeped in history. Also a very fine ranger station in the same area, surrounded by the most beautiful trees we've ever seen. They were locusts, and had changed color. Not yellow, like most, but the deepest and softest red ever.

Warner's is a nice spot, with large crowds and a fine view of Lake Hemshaw. Below the hot springs resort a few miles is another branch in the road. Imperial goes straight south, eventually to El Centro, while the other branch said Pala mission and Oceanside. Looked interesting, so we said good bye to the Imperial highway and started for the lake.

LAKE HENSHAW is a large body of water, completely surrounded by cows. It has a dam and lots of fishermen but is otherwise uninteresting. Here the smooth oiled road changed to a rougher version of gravelled roadway, which, signs said, is a state highway. Immediately we entered the La Jolla Indian reservation. Could see why it was given to the Indians. No one else wanted it. Just a couple of small valleys where meager crops can be grown. The rest hills.

Reservation residents seem to gang up for parties or church or something on Sundays. Every small settlement had dozens of old cars parked, with their owners chatting in the shade.

Rincon, where we expected a town, is a service station and intersection of the road over Rincon grade to Escondido and the Pala highway. Fine oiled road started here again, and it was smooth sailing into Pala, where the mission, built in 1816, is the main point of interest. The road the most beautiful part. Lovely gardens and historic old bell tower, surmounted by a cross. At the foot of the cross grows a small cactus plant.

Fourteen miles below is the San Luis Rey mission, which has been "restored" so much that it looks like a modern hotel. We'll take the old Pala buildings, with their crumbling "dobe walls."

All through that part of the country are ruins of adobe buildings, slowly crumbling back into the dust. Some have been better kept and are still homes of the Indians. Principal industry seems to be raising chile peppers. Long red strings of them hanging on all houses and what looked like acres laid out to dry.

GEORGE KELLOGG tells us that the Imperial route up from El Centro through Warner's and on to Riverside was the first used by the Butterfield stages and was the first where mail was brought overland from the eastern part of the country. Hilly country made wonderful place for highwaymen, he said, after 1858, when the route was first used, and soldiers necessary for patrols at all times.

He also gave geological explanation of high mountains all along the route. Pointed out hot springs all along the highway as proof of his arguments that the earth pushed upward from the coastal area and created a fault where we now see the mountains.

THE Imperial Highwayers are good "buck-passers," we found out at their meeting Saturday.

Speaker of the Assembly Ted Craig and Mrs. Craig attended. Ted was to make the speech of welcome. Startled everyone, including Mrs. Craig, with the announcement that she was going to give the address. She did it, very ably. When time for the response came from Bob Hays of El Centro, he also shined the duty upon his wife. Mrs. Hays likewise made a fine talk. If Ted ever loses his voice, we know he'll have a good

ASSOCIATED C. OF C. TO HEAR SOIL CONSERVATION TALK

MEETING IS SLATED AT TUSTIN

H. E. Reddick, State Head of Soil Work, To Be Tuesday Speaker

TUSTIN.—Harry E. Reddick, regional director of the Soil Conservation service in California, will be speaker at a meeting of the associated chambers of commerce, scheduled in the American Legion hall here at 6:30 p. m. tomorrow, it has been announced by George Raymer, secretary.

Mr. Reddick will discuss the 25,000-acre soil erosion demonstration area in Orange county and the newly-installed veterans' Civilian Conservation camp at El Toro. Veterans of the camp are working on the soil conservation program.

Harry Jenks, consulting engineer, will speak on Orange county sewage reclamation as another feature of the program, Mr. Raymer announced.

GARDEN GROVE.—Male members of the Beta Sigma class of the First Methodist church won a series of contests when the group met in the high school gymnasium here Friday evening.

Mrs. Percy Prior, assisted by Mrs. Wilbur Harper and Mrs. C. G. Hall, directed the contests. Decorations were arranged by Mrs. Conrad Schreff, assisted by Mrs. Elmer Launders. Hallowe'en refreshments were served by Mrs. Ralph Chaffee, president of the class, and Mrs. Robert McDonald.

Present with members of their family were Harvey Emley, class teacher and Mrs. Emley, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Brownell, Mr. and Mrs. A. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Schneider, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Chaffee, Mr. and Mrs. Percy Prior, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Holt, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Monroe, Mr. and Mrs. L. F. German, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Launders, Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Schreff, Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Hall, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Harper, Mr. and Mrs. C. Biggs, Mr. and Mrs. Felix Heberstreit, Mrs. A. L. Schneider, Mrs. Mabel Smith, Mrs. Robert McDonald and Miss Mabel Head.

EASTERN STAR AT GARDEN GROVE HAS TWO GUESTS

GARDEN GROVE.—Mrs. Jeanette Tarpley, Santa Ana, new deputy grand matron of the Eastern Star for the 57th district, and Mrs. Gladys Welton, matron of Fullerton chapter 191, were special guests at the meeting of the Garden Grove chapter recently.

During the business session reports of the recent Grand chapter sessions at Coronado were given by the worthy matron, Mrs. Ethel Schauer and associate matron, Mrs. Alice T. Smith. A social hour followed with Mrs. Ann Haster and Mrs. Dorothy Jentges serving refreshments.

CAPISTRANO CLUB SPONSORS PARTY

SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO.—The Woman's club sponsored a card party at the high school auditorium Saturday night. M. L. Parker was awarded high honors for the evening's play in contract bridge.

Mrs. Mildred Smith and M. M. Parker are contemplating a six-week contract bridge tournament soon. The tournament will be held in connection with the Manana Bridge club's regular Monday night meetings.

SCAVENGER HUNT HELD AT GROVE

GARDEN GROVE.—Ila Rae Hunt invited a group of friends to a party at her home on Pine street recently for a scavenger hunt. Many Epps and Margaret McCaw were awarded prizes. Dancing and refreshments followed.

Guests were the Misses Ellen Jane Jordan, Nadene Ringler, Melva Rogers, Mary Epps, Margaret McCaw and Ruth and Joyce Burton.

CONFERENCE IS HELD AT G. G.

GARDEN GROVE.—With 110 delegates representing 22 cities in Southern California attending, a conference rally of Young Women's Foreign Missionary societies was held at the Garden Grove First Methodist church Friday evening, with the local group as hostesses.

The church banquet hall was transformed into a South American setting and the guest speaker, Miss Helen Gilliland of Los Angeles, a missionary to South America, chose as her subject, "Under the Southern Cross."

Miss Frances Hammon welcomed the group to Garden Grove with Miss Ruth Hall of Los Angeles responding. Mrs. S. W. Stanley, Los Angeles conference superintendent, presided for the roll call and presentation of awards when the Lombard trophy for accomplishments during the year was awarded the Long Beach delegation. New officers were installed with Miss Onalee Repp of Alhambra seated as president.

Franklin McDonald gave three saxophone numbers and joined Miss Onetia Ames, pianist for a duet number. The musical program during the evening included a vocal duet, "In Mexico," by Miss Elva Ralston and Miss Lillian Crane. Jean Holt gave two musical readings and Mrs. Irvine German sang "La Golondrina." She was accompanied by her husband on the violin and by her son, Irvine German, Jr., at the piano.

CLUB SECTION AT ORANGE PLANS DESSERT BRIDGE

ORANGE.—The Third Home Economics section of the Orange Woman's club will entertain with a dessert bridge at the clubhouse tomorrow. Dessert will be served at 1 o'clock, and an afternoon of cards will follow. Mrs. G. L. Niles, section leader, is in charge.

Several Orange young people who are attending universities and colleges spent the week-end at their homes here. Misses Malinda Walker, Florence Dierker and Marie Fitcher, all students at Pomona college, Miss Eleanor Flintham of U. C. L. A. and Miss Dorothy Flintham of U. S. C. all were guests of their parents.

Mr. and Mrs. William Dyer, West Orange residents, have announced the birth of their second son, who has been named Phillip Allen, at the St. Joseph hospital Saturday morning. The Dyers have a nine-year-old son, William Bates Dyer. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Herman Coate and W. A. Dyer, all of Orange.

Make This Droll Elephant Mascot

PATTERN 5461

Even though the circus isn't here, this elephant gets applause. That's certain—whether he's a toy for the baby or a mascot for that young lady who has her favorites in football stars. He's a merry fellow and you'll be merry, too, in making him, for he goes together so easily. Do him in a gay print—do him in velvet—his choice is either.

In pattern 5461 you will find a pattern and directions for making an elephant about 10 inches high; material requirements. To obtain this pattern send 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred) to Santa Ana Journal Household Arts Department, 117 East Fifth street, Santa Ana, Cal.

ANAHEIM SHOW EVENTS TOLD

ANAHEIM.—Ralph Macbeth, general chairman, announced program numbers for the afternoon horse show, which will be held Thursday in conjunction with the 11th annual Hallowe'en program here. The horse show will open at 1:30 p. m. in the city park ball grounds.

Many famous horses of the state will be seen in the show. Mr. Macbeth announced, including prize winners from the Sacramento and Pomona fairs, as well as entries from local stables. Five major horse show events are included in the program, he added.

The afternoon will open with a grand entry and introduction of entries by Abe Lefton, nationally known radio star and announcer, who will be master of ceremonies.

A boot race, exhibition and fancy riding by Monte Montana and a jumping contest comprise the first four events on the program.

Event No. 5 is a saddle and backward-riding race, where contestants must put on their saddles backward and ride their mounts backward for 100 yards. Stock horses, including many entries from local stables, will also be shown. Trick horses, three-gaited saddle animals and a surprise race will also be featured. Many entries have been received for the polo horse class. Mr. Macbeth announced. Hackney ponies and five-gaited saddle horses will also be shown, he added.

Included in other events planned are a barrel roping contest, "musical chairs," greased pigs and a children's sack race. Judge Cullen, nationally known judge of horses, will officiate, it has been announced. Included with Mr. Macbeth as the committee in charge of the events are Dean Love and Ralph McCutcheon.

DANCE CLUB TO OPEN SEASON

ORANGE.—The Quien Sabe dancing club will hold the first dance of the current season Wednesday evening at the American Legion hall, it was announced today by Gordon X. Richmond, chairman of the general committee.

Seventy-five couples have membership in the club this year, and all have been urged to attend the Hallowe'en dance. The committee in charge is composed of Mr. and Mrs. Richmond, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Mensur, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Miles, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. Hollis Showalter, Mr. and Mrs. Martell E. Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Edwards and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Glessner.

GARDEN GROVE LADIES' AID HAS LUNCHEON MEET

GARDEN GROVE.—Mrs. W. M. Adland and Miss Mettie Chaffee provided luncheon for members of circle No. 1 of the First Methodist church ladies' aid when they met recently in the church parlors to prepare layettes for needy families. Mrs. Ralph Chaffee presided at the business meeting.

Others present were Miss Mary E. Edwards, Mesdames F. A. Monroe, Irvine German, B. Jackson, G. R. Reyburn, Grover Ralston and Edward Chaffee. Joining the group for luncheon were Rev. Ralston, Mr. Adland and Ralph Chaffee.

ORGANIZATION OF LODGE STARTED AT SEAL BEACH

SEAL BEACH.—First steps to organize an Eastern Star lodge in Seal Beach were taken at a meeting recently when forty-three persons met at the city auditorium. Mrs. D. D. Layhead, past worthy matron of the Norwalk Eastern Star, presided at the session. Several meetings must be held before the local group may petition the grand lodge to organize a lodge here.

PROGRESS ON ROAD TOLD

Imperial Highway Group Celebrates Birthday At Brea Meeting

BREA.—Reports of progress along the entire route of Imperial highway, from El Segundo to El Centro, featured the birthday meeting of the group held in the American Legion hall here Saturday evening.

"In my mind, the highway is already paved," Ted Craig, speaker of the state assembly, told members of the association. "The state is interested in the project, and the route has been opened at both ends. Soon traffic will demand that the road be paved." Mr. Craig added that he believed that eventually the highway in Los Angeles county will be added to the state secondary system.

Estimates of cost of changing or abandoning switches on the proposed route for the highway between Valencia avenue and Yorba Linda are holding up start of the work in that district, LeRoy Lyon, president of the association, announced. A state appropriation of $110,000 for continuing the highway from Carolina avenue to Yorba Linda has been made, he said. Money is also available for rights-of-way along the route. Funds which were to be used for an underpass on the Pacific Electric line will be used to make a better road in the local area, he added.

Possibility of grading the highway route from Yorba Linda to the Santa Ana river was also indicated. If this work is completed, the association will be in a position to obtain further aid for construction of a bridge across the river for a direct connection with the Santa Ana canyon route.

George Kellogg, secretary, reported that changes in plans for the highway will necessitate obtaining 24 feet additional land from property owners in some places. The change gives the road only one turn between Brea and Yorba Linda, he added.

Robert Hays, El Centro, reported progress on the highway sections in San Diego and Imperial counties. Lack of equipment for the road in San Diego county is holding up work to some extent, he said. A. C. Stewart, Riverside county, reported shouldering on the route from Corona through Elsinore to Warner's Hot Springs almost completed.

Dr. Glenn Curtis, Brea, lauded work done by Mr. Craig and Mr. Kellogg in furthering aims of the association. Mrs. Ted Craig gave the address of welcome at the meeting and Mrs. Hays responded. Supper was served by members of the Legion auxiliary.

The girls' sextet, from Brea-Olinda High school, directed by Miss Mary Bruner, sang two numbers. The next meeting will be held in El Centro, Nov. 7, it was announced.

SHOWER SURPRISES GROVE COUPLE

GARDEN GROVE.—Surprising Mr. and Mrs. George Crow, who were married last month, a group of friends called at their home at Walnut and Acacia streets Friday evening and invited them to a shower party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Nearing, East Garden Grove boulevard, Mr. Crow was the former Miss Ruth Woodworth of Artesia.

Mrs. Nearing was assisted in planning the affair and in serving a late supper by Mrs. Clara Olson and Miss Eleanor Hayes. Others present were Mr. and Mrs. John Pool and daughters, Joyce, Gladys and Jackie of Anaheim; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Gedney, Mrs. Pearl Pleader, and sons, Bernie and Paul Edward, Mrs. Harry Ames, Miss Onetia Ames, Mrs. Bertha Collins, Mrs. Sarah Nearing, Willard Booth and members of the Nearing family.

BRIDGE PARTY HELD AT HOME IN MIDWAY CITY

MIDWAY CITY.—Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hazard entertained at supper followed by bridge at their home on First street Saturday evening. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Pryor, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kingsbury, Mrs. Rachel Price, Mrs. M. A. Damron and Mrs. W. E. Moore.

Among local people attending a masquerade dance given by the American Legion of La Habra Saturday evening were Mr. and Mrs. Harold Robertson, Mr. and Mrs. E. Davies, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Palmer, Mr. and Mrs. Jim McFarland, and Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Houlihan.

LIGHTHOUSE AT NEWPORT, PLAN

NEWPORT BEACH.—Erection of a lighthouse as a memorial to persons who lost their lives at the harbor entrance before it was made safe by jetties and dredging work was suggested at a recent meeting of the Newport Harbor chamber of commerce here.

In addition, members moved to ask county supervisors for aid in installation of a granite boulder and plate naming victims at the shore end of the jetty.

Chairman A. B. Rousseau appointed Dr. Howard Seager, Capt. Brown, J. B. McNally, H. L. Sherman and Mark J. Johnson a committee to investigate need of more public landings at both Newport and Balboa in the harbor.

DRUMS BEATING FOR LARRY LUTZ NOW

ALL UP and down the coast, the scribes are commencing to beat the drums for Santa Ana's Larry Lutz, standout member of the glorious Golden Bears of California. The writers want Larry to get all-American mention and they know that their shoutings will be far more heeded than the plaudits of the throng—and as much considered as the word of the coaches.

On a trip to San Francisco recently, Sports Scribe George T. Davis, wired back the following report to his Los Angeles paper: "Larry Lutz, the 'laughing boy' of California's best aggregations since 'wonder team' days, is being boomed by every local critic for all-American tackle honors."

'LAUGHING BOY' LUTZ
Bob Reynolds Forgotten?

"In their praise of Lutz, who is playing the brand of football that he promised two years ago as a sophomore, they have forgotten all about Stanford's Bob Reynolds, who made the all-America in 1934 but whose tackle work has not 'caught fire' this season."

"Lutz, a Santa Ana boy who learned his football under 'Tex' Oliver, has been directly responsible for the Bears' last two touchdowns, blocking Stan Rodan's kick in the Oregon game that paved the way to a touchdown, and forcing Joe Kelly of Santa Clara to punt hurriedly with the result that the ball was grounded far back of the kicker and started the Bears on their way." (This was written before the Trojan game.)

"Lutz and his fellow-townsmen, Floyd (Toy) Blower, who is the offensive spark of the Bears, were slow in acclimating themselves at Berkeley but now they are as firmly established as the campanile itself."

Add worries: That we had been in Santa Ana during the football days of Lutz and Blower that we might honestly join in boosting them. All we can do is listen, until we've seen them play.

SHORT SCOOPINGS ON THE FIELD OF SPORTS

MUSINGS: Notre Dame, winning handily but not steamrollerish, must be holding back much of that dynamite. Coach Elmer Layden doesn't turn the boys loose as the late lamented Knute Rockne did. Everybody's wondering where Layden got all the new backs he popped into the game to defeat Navy. Hank Anderson, who couldn't click at N. D. is doing all right at North Carolina State.

Today's best bet: Bear your children in Alabama. Reason: The three best Negro athletes of today were born there—Jesse Owens, Joe Louis and Eusebio Peacock. Buzz-buzz: Babe Ruth may go abroad to coach British baseball teams. (We didn't know they had any.) Best fight coming up right now is the Tony Canzoneri-Bobby Facho squabble in December.

Elmer Layden is quoted as saying there are two kinds of football coaches. One worries 16 hours a day. The other has to play Ohio State and can't sleep, so worries 24 hours a day. Saturday was a great day for the Stagg football family. Susequanna, coached by Alonzo Stagg, Jr., and Moravian, coached by Paul Stagg, played a scoreless tie—just what their daddy asked for. On the coast, Papa Stagg's College of the Pacific squad bumped Nevada, 7-0.

Overhead in a crowd: One football coach saying to Bill Foote, who can take it: "Well, I see I'm not the only one building character!"

By PAUL WRIGHT

C's on their report cards are always welcome, but C's on their football calendar are not. Citrus and Chaffey—two poison (double strength) to Santa Ana's Dons. Since Riverside was outclassed by the junior college in a 26-19 upset which many thought was an indication the Dons would set the Eastern conference afire this season, Citrus came along with a 12-6 victory that jeopardized Santa Ana's chances.

Up at Ontario Saturday an ordinary Chaffey eleven went a step further and all but eliminated the Dons, by the slim margin of a conversion point and field goal, 10-6.

The unexpected reversal lowers the Bill Cook-Al Reboin eleven into a fifth-place tie with San Bernardino, and obviously leaves the Dons too far gone to overtake Citrus and Riverside without miraculous change in luck.

Clarence Bolton, Santa Ana's safetackle, received a deep cut above the eye, but will be ready for the Dons' next stand at San Bernardino Friday night. Major Anderson, reserve safety, also received minor injuries.

Panthers Score on Pass
The Dons played too inconsistently for anyone to feel sorry for them, but nevertheless threatened twice before Chaffey engineered its touchdown drive from Santa Ana's 41, after Tackle Utman had recovered Quarterback Oliver McCarter's fumble of a punt. The Panthers unleashed a short pass, Quarterback Myers to Halfback Cross, over the right side of the line, and Cross wiggled his way 30 yards to the Don goal. Bert Nichols was sent into the fray to kick the extra point, and shoved Bert Heiser's Ontario club into a 7-0 lead.

Santa Ana threatened in the second period on a 25-yard pass from McCarter to Walt Hickman to Chaffey's 29. Dick Moore squirmed over center for 5 yards, and a lateral pass gave the Dons first down on the 18. They lost 10 yards, however, in the next four downs.

Makes Long Return
McCarter took the opening kickoff in the third quarter and rambled from his goal to Santa Ana's 46, and only one man stood in his way to a touchdown.

Myers, quick little safety who gained 91 of Chaffey's 138 yards from scrimmage, thrilled the crowd late in the third quarter on a 39-yard dash to Santa Ana's 14. Failing to gain on three downs, Chaffey called on Nichols to boot a field goal. The ball sailed in bullet-like fashion, cleared the uprights by inches.

Harry Stanley, reserve end, recovered a fumbled punt on Chaffey's 24 early in the final period, and Fullback Byron Nott, an ex-Beats, kicked a 20-yard field goal to give the Dons a 10-6 lead.

CLARENCE THOMPSON, Minnesota. A reserve back, he scored the winning touchdowns as his team beat Northwestern, 21-13. ED GODDARD, Washington State. His running and passing featured his team's victory over Oregon State.

FRANK PATRICK, Pittsburgh. Made all of his team's points in 9-0 victory over Penn State.

Fumble Is Costly
The Dons gained possession on a fumble a few minutes after their touchdown, and headed for the Chaffey goal. The alarmed Panthers saw Santa Ana march from mid-field to their 23. But Joe Herbert, Don safety, fumbled the ball while dashing over right guard, and Chaffey recovered on the 3-yard line.

Bruin-Bear Game Decides Coast Grid Title

UCLANS MAY DEFEAT BIG BROTHERS

Westwooders Favored In Some Places; Only Two Games Block Path

By RUSSELL NEWLAND

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 28. (AP) Divided from a 10-team scramble to a two-team race, the Pacific Coast conference football championship for 1935 may be decided on the green turf of the Los Angeles Coliseum next Saturday.

The game, most important and by far the most interesting of the Far Western gridiron engagements scheduled for the first week-end of November, will bring together the surviving undefeated conference members—the University of California Bears and the University of California at Los Angeles Bruins.

Grown from a mite to a mammoth in the last few years, the California at Los Angeles eleven is knocking at the championship gates this season with a boldness that brings smiles to loyal supporters.

Crowning Achievement
For Bill Spaulding a victory over the California Bears would be the crowning achievement of a coaching career at U. C. L. A., which began in 1925 and has persisted and thrived in the face of some terrible wallowings.

Next Saturday, Spaulding crew will line up as the favorite in some quarters, on the basis of comparative performances against the University of Oregon. Two weeks ago the California Bears had a tough struggle to beat Oregon 6 to 0. Last Saturday, the California at Los Angeles Bruins trounced Oregon 33 to 6. Meanwhile the Bears were subduing the University of Southern California, 21 to 7.

Would Clinch Title
If victory swings to the side of U. C. L. A., the conference championship would be virtually clinched. After the Bears' game, the Bruins would have only University of Idaho standing between them and the title.

For the Bears, a win will mean only that another difficult hurdle has been surmounted. Coach "Stub" Allison's Bears must still face University of Washington and Stanford, the latter already defeated by California at Los Angeles.

The only other conference game next week-end will pit Montana against Washington.

	W.	L.	Tied	Pts.
U. C. L. A.	3	0	0	27
California	2	0	0	19
Stanford	1	1	0	12
Washington	1	1	0	6
Washington State	2	0	0	39
Oregon State	1	2	0	33
So. California	1	2	0	29
Idaho	1	2	0	14
Montana	0	3	0	14

AL METZGER ACES NO. 17 HOLE AT COUNTRY CLUB

Albert W. Metzger was still thrilled today over his entrance into the charmed circle of hole-in-one golfers at the Santa Ana Country club late yesterday afternoon.

The Santa Ana sportsman, using a No. 3 iron, aced No. 17, a 154-yard hole, to increase to an even 50 the number who have shot hole-in-ones over the Newport boulevard course. The ball hit the side of the green, and rolled straight into the cup. The feat was witnessed by C. D. Holmes and his son, Duane, Jr.

Mr. Metzger's card:
Hole 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20

Total 3355 317-10

F. E. Farnsworth and M. B. Wellington and L. W. Bemis and L. D. Coffing annexed honors in best ball sweepstakes with respective cards of 76-8-68 and 74-6-68.

In a special "Jack and Jill" tournament Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Robinson carded a 165-16-149, with Mr. Robinson shooting a low gross of 72. Mrs. Roy Langley and Paul Hall were second with 188-37-151 and Mrs. Dean Campbell and Roy Langley third, 189-37-152.

An oldtimers' tournament and dinner were highlights of the week's festivities. Winners included Hugh Smith in blind bogey, 104-33-71; C. R. Furr, in blind-hole play over Nos. 2, 4, 7, 8, 13 and 15, shot a 27; Charles Way scored low gross with 88; Kemper Taylor compiled high gross with 100; E. T. Mater had second low gross with 99, and William Penn third low gross with 98.

That Doesn't Bother Me—My Brother's Here!

That's what Bob Brittingham, California end, might have said when Fullback Cliff Propst of the U. S. C. squad batted down the pass that was intended for Bob—although this picture was snapped just before Propst knocked it down. Two plays later Bob Fowler, Bear halfback, passed over the goal line to Bob's brother, Jack Brittingham, for the first California score as the Bears stopped the Trojans, 21 to 7.

SAINTS FACE MOORS HERE SATURDAY

Refreshed after a welcomed vacation from drill since Wednesday, Santa Ana High school's football forces reported to Coaches Bill Foote and Reece Greene at Poly field today to continue preparations for their next Coast league assignment with Alhambra here Saturday afternoon.

The home-town preps are burned up over their miserable showing in losing to Long Beach Poly, titular favorite, by the unexpected score of 32-6 recently, and will be out to show against Alhambra that they know more about football than was revealed in the wrecking party at Long Beach.

Leonard Stafford, the handy-Andy who operates anywhere in the Saint backfield, is favoring a Charley horse, but will be ready for the battle with Alhambra, Coach Foote said. The rest of his men are in good condition.

The week will be devoted to spirited inter-squad scrimmages. No immediate changes are planned on the Saint varsity, but showings in drill the next few days may result in some shifting of his regulars, Foote said. Mac Beall, out since Oct. 12 with a back injury, will be available at Saturday.

The Saints now line up with Capt. Ervin Youel and Harold Short or Don Kennedy at end, Jim (Red) Crowther and Bob Reid at tackle, Joe Crawford and Norm Garrett at guard, Charles Robinson at center, Beall or Hal Tucker at quarter, Carroll Joy and Warren (Whitey) Mann or Les Beck at half, and Bill Musick or Bob Dunning at fullback.

Alhambra, strong defensive club, barely lost to San Diego's Hillers, 13-7, in the opening round. Opposition from George Hobbs' Moors undoubtedly will be stern.

BEARS SECOND IN NATIONAL GRID SQUAD RATINGS

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 28. (AP) Notre Dame was ranked first among the nation's football teams today by Deke Holgate, grid statistician, with California and North Carolina, also undefeated and untied, placed second one point back.

Rice, Temple, Ohio State and Texas Christian followed in the order named with Michigan State, beaten once. Listed eighth above Marquette, University of California at Los Angeles and Southern Methodist, all of which were among the unbeaten and untied elevens of the country.

COOK FORGES TO TOP OF GUESSERS

Clyde Cook, Santa Ana High school's varsity baseball and Class B basketball and football coach, advanced from fourth position to capture the lead in The Journal's first annual Football Scores Guessing contest as the result of week-end prognosticating.

Out of a dozen games Mr. Cook missed only the Washington-Stanford and Orange-Brea tussles, in addition to the outcome of the Santa Ana-Chaffey fray, which also gave his competitors a headache.

W. W. (Bill) Foote, previous leader, missed half of his guesses and slumped into sixth. Buried in the cellar for two weeks, Frank Rogers did some effective picking to evacuate this position. Clyde Patton now brings up the rear with 1382 points.

DIZZY DEAN SETS NEW MARK FOR SCREWY RECORDS

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 27. (AP) Dizzy Dean, the St. Louis Cardinals' hurler, added perhaps the dizziest of all his records to the list today. He pitched nine innings of an exhibition contest here yesterday in which he was credited with the victory and charged with the defeat.

Eighteen thousand persons all but filled Wrigley field to see him pitch a major league all-star line to victory, 10 to 4, after he had hurled three innings for the minor league all-stars, during which he was nicked for 5 hits and 2 runs to become the losing pitcher. Then he replaced Newt Kimball on the major league lineup and earned credit for the victory since Kimball had not completed the required four and one-third innings.

MISS TWILA HEATH, BADMINTON ACE, PLAYS AT PASADENA

Miss Twila Heath of Santa Ana, defending champion, will represent the Los Angeles badminton club in the annual Pasadena invitational for amateurs opening Friday. Miss Heath will play in singles and doubles, and in mixed doubles with Eric Peto, No. 2 man of the Los Angeles club.

Seeded first in the tournament, Miss Heath will compete against athletes from the following clubs: Pasadena Athletic, Pasadena Badminton, Valley Hunt, Glendale, Los Angeles, Claremont, Black Fox and Racketeers.

CITRUS BELT OPENER WON HERE, 9-2

Santa Ana Tennis Club Defeats Riverside; Wetherell Loses

Serving notice on Citrus Belt league opposition, Manager John Cress' Santa Ana Tennis clubmen today pointed to a 9-2 victory over Riverside to prove the home-town racquet-wielders will make their presence known on Southern California courts this season.

The inlanders, whose ace is Dr. Bob Vanderzyl, were defeated on the Frances Willard Junior High school courts here yesterday. Santa Ana swept through women's singles, men's doubles and mixed doubles without the loss of a match.

Lewis Wetherell, Santa Ana's tennis king, and Riverside's touted Vanderzyl staged a genuine "death struggle" in men's singles. Young Wetherell got off to a flying start, won the first set, 6-3. But the Riverside star became steadier, and squeezed out 6-4, 8-6 victories to win.

Santa Ana's only other defeat occurred in third singles, Gil Ward bowing to Riverside's Silverwood after two strenuous sets, 6-4, 6-4. Toby White, Bob Peacock and Tom Rippey of the men's division and Miss Betty Ritchey of the women's division won their singles matches for Santa Ana. Howard Moore and Clyde Henry and Marvin Jacobs and Carl Aubrey triumphed in men's doubles. Mrs. Mildred Ward and Fred Winger won their mixed doubles match.

Santa Ana's next conference start will be with Pomona, but the date and place have not been selected.

The complete results:
Men's Singles
Vanderzyl (Riverside) defeated Wetherell (Santa Ana), 3-6, 6-4, 8-6.
White (SA) def. Kellogg (R), 5-7, 6-2.
Peacock (SA) def. Pooley (R), 6-4, 6-2.
Silverwood (R) def. Ward (SA), 6-4, 6-4.
Rippey (SA) def. McClain (R), 6-3, 6-2.

Women's Singles
Lauderbach (SA) def. Steinturrier (R), 6-2, 6-0.
Ritchey (SA) won by default.
Men's Doubles
Ranney and Hallman (SA) def. Roach and McIntyre (R), 7-5, 2-6, 6-4.
Moore and Henry (SA) def. Sperry and Wetherell (R), 6-3, 6-3.
Jacobs and Aubrey (SA) def. Voorhies and Pierce (R), 8-6, 4-6, 6-1.

Mrs. Ward and Wiener (SA) def. Miss Poolen and Bruce (R), 6-0, 6-2.
Score—Santa Ana, 9; Riverside, 2.

BRUIN SUB WINS DECISION OVER GRID OFFICIALS

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 28. (AP) Chalk up a decision for little Don Ferguson, substitute halfback of the University of California at Los Angeles, over the football officials.

In the dying moments of the Bruins' victorious game with Oregon here Saturday the Webfoots tried two unsuccessful passes over the goal line. The officials took the ball back to the U. C. L. A. 22-yard line and gave it to Oregon for another try.

Then it was that the 155-pound ball carrier proved that all his speed was not in his feet. Although he wasn't the acting captain, he asked the officials how come and won his point. U. C. L. A. took the ball on the 20 and punted out of trouble.

NEW ROOF IS READY FOR STADIUM

Winner Gets Bout With Lutz; Steve Strelch Meets Masked Marvel

By FRANK ROGERS
The lid goes on local wrestling tonight.

In other words, Sam Sampson has his brand new roof virtually completed at the highway 101 arena and no cold winds will howl around and make your nose run or your skin turn blue. Sam is even putting in heaters in consideration of the spectators.

Calculated to put new life in the rascals as well as the spectators, the new ceiling is Sampson's way of telling everyone that wrestling and boxing at the Orange County Athletic club are here to stay since the customers have strongly indicated their willingness to cough up the cash. In another week, when the finishing touches have been added, Sampson promises a gala celebration—with a hatful of big-money wrestlers.

Tonight's fray brings Fractious Fraley, the Boston b-man, back to the top spot for the fourth time in four weeks. He meets Milo (Scorpion) Steinborn, new to the local arena but only last week conqueror of Nick Lutz who is the apple of Orange county's eye. Pug-nacious Pat, whose best bet is an overhead punch that reminds one of Abe Lincoln splitting wood, will be a hero for fair if he will avenge the defeat of Mr. Lutz by beating the Scorpion. Lutz gets a shot at the winner next week. Fraley is a decided underdog.

Popular Steve Strelch, the Smilin' Swede, comes back asked to take on the so-called Masked Marvel who has lost his last two bouts here on disqualifications. Steve has had some experience unmasking the hooded boys—we saw him lay bare the face of one very tough guy named the Black Knight—and may expose the countenance of the Marvel.

Wee Willie Davis, the tall tower of West Virginia, meets Frank von Mohr in a one-fall finish match while Wee Willie's brother, Nelson, makes his third round bow against Casey Kazanjian, ex-Stanford footballer.

GARDEN GROVE WINS, 10 TO 3

Pounding the offerings of Ortiz for 16 safeties, Garden Grove slugged its way to a 10-3 victory over Anaheim's Merchants in baseball at Garden Grove yesterday.

Cartwright, Sawyer and Riley of Garden Grove had an exceptional good day with the willow.

TWO SHOT IN GANGLAND WARFARE

Ambushed Assaults Of Pair Escape After Firing Shots

NEW YORK, Oct. 28. (AP)—Hugo Chivello, 25, Long Island city, and Joseph Pegno, 32, Astoria, were shot and critically wounded today in what police believe is another outburst of gang warfare.

Each were shot three times as they entered the hallway of an apartment house at 320 West Eighty-fourth street, where police said they lived.

They were taken to the Knickerbocker hospital.

The assailants, who had been in an ambush, escaped.

Meantime police in New York and Newark, N. J., were working to solve the most fatal gang warfare the metropolitan area has known since repeal broke up most of the prohibition mobs.

Arthur (Dutch) Schultz, Elegenheimer, former beer baron of the Bronx, and three aides were slain and three others seriously wounded Wednesday night, after "Pretty Louie" Amberg's shrouded and battered body was found in a blazing automobile in Brooklyn where he led a dominant gang of racketeers.

Albert Stein, one of the gangsters hunted as a killer, has since been found dead. Police called it suicide from gas poisoning.

MRS. SUE HENRY FETED AT LODGE

Adding surprises to their program, brothers of Damascus White Shrine who were in charge of last Friday's meeting at the Masonic temple honored Mrs. Sue Henry, the worthy high priestess, with a gift shower, to mark her birthday this month.

The presiding officer was also given a corsage by the brothers. Pictures of the jubilee lodge and White Shrine picnic given last summer were shown. Dancing concluded the evening and refreshments were served at tables set with Halloween decorations.

Plans for ceremonial, Nov. 8, were made by the group.

OUTDOOR CLUB TO MEET IN CHURCH

With a hint of "winter coming on" in the weather, the Outdoor club has decided to change the place of meetings beginning tomorrow from Irvine park, the summer rendezvous, to the First Methodist church gymnasium.

The group will meet for gym at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning under Mrs. R. R. Russick.

CITIES SLASH HUGE DEBTS, CUT COSTS

Overhead Burdens Are Scaled Down; Bonded
Obligations Lower

(Copyright, 1935, by Associated Press)
CHICAGO, Oct. 28.—With sensitive ears turned to the public demand for governmental economy, officials of a significant number of leading cities have reduced sharply the mountain of municipal debt piled up in the free handed "whoopie era."

A survey of the nation's 50 largest cities today showed the depression pinch on the taxpayer's pocketbook had resulted in a scaling down of the heavy burden of long term indebtedness.

Some cities, notably Milwaukee, have embarked on fiscal programs destined within a few years to relieve them of all debt.

Free by 1944

Officials predicted the Wisconsin metropolis would be free of all encumbrance by 1944. In 1929 the city owed bondholders $41,616,050; in 1932, the peak year, $46,380,000. The total was cut to $39,712,433 by Jan. 1, 1935.

Farthest advanced of the cities surveyed was Oklahoma City, which was placed on a "cash basis" in 1929. Since that year, operating surplus in the city's treasury, has risen steadily, and bonded indebtedness has fallen from $19,905,000 to $15,696,500.

Boosts Tax Payments

For the most part, the campaigns to pare long term debts were combined with successful efforts at reducing current expenditures and encouraging the payment of taxes property owners found burdensome as their revenues decreased.

Assessors generally sliced valuations. Governments spent less and reduced their tax levies.

Los Angeles' total of bonds outstanding was $157,609,499 on June 30, 1935, compared with $145,477,525 on the same date in 1929, but current expenditures from $81,081,337 in 1929 to $18,450,863 this year.

Several of the major cities in the midwest farm belt, prime sufferers from the depression collapse of commodity prices, slipped backward, others did well to hold their own.

CONFERENCE SPEAKER IN M. E. CHURCH IS HIGH OFFICIAL

He has written among others, "The Child and America's Future," "J. W. Thinks Black," and "Between the Americas."

Mr. Stowell was born in New York and did missionary work before becoming a board secretary. He is a graduate of Oberlin college, Columbia university, and Union Theological seminary, with special work in education at the University of Wisconsin.

CONDUCTRESSES OF COUNTY STAR MEET

Eastern Star conductresses of Orange county were luncheon guests Saturday at the home of Mrs. Olive Mason, Laguna Beach. Co-hostesses were Mrs. Harry Leadlay, Yorba Linda, Mrs. Marie Schleicher, Laguna, and Mrs. Robert Bunch, Orange.

A study period, following the luncheon, was conducted by Mrs. May Henry, Garden Grove, sponsor of the group.

Others present were Mrs. Lucille Decker, Artesia; Mrs. Wilford Lewis, Santa Ana; Mrs. L. H. Tanquary, Buena Park; Mrs. Clara Wilson, Fullerton; Mrs. Ruth Abplanalp, Buena Park; Mrs. Max Gowdy, Santa Ana.

"The scenery we've seen," says MacDermott, "is grand!" "Indeed," Puffy agrees, "but I think we should land. Im hungry and thirsty—it soon will be night. So let's put an end to this stratospheric flight."

U. S. Fleet Pauses to Celebrate 'Navy Day'

This year's Navy Day catches the United States fleet in one of its greatest periods of peacetime expansion with the 1937 goal, calling for a great increase in man and ship power. The picture shows the flagship of the navy, the U. S. S. Pennsylvania, heading a procession in a recent review off the Pacific coast. In the inset are a group of navy "gobs," typical of the fighting force which will number 100,000 men in 1937, if the present program is carried out.

GIRLS' HAYRACK HOURS TOLD

To aid parents in calling for their daughters who go on the Girl Scout hayrack ride tomorrow night, hours for arrival and return of the Scouts to central points were announced today by the executive committee.

Girl Scouts in the north section of town are to meet at the First Methodist church, and those in the south party at the home of the Rev. O. Scott McFarland, 303 Orange avenue, promptly at 6 o'clock. The hayracks will bring the girls back to those points at 9:30.

A round of Halloween festivities has been planned at the Clyde Deardorf barn where the hay wagons will take the Scouts. The merry-makers are to don costumes for the occasion.

SACRED SCIENCE LECTURES WILL BE GIVEN HERE

Teachings of "Sacred-Wisdom-Science" will be revealed, starting Tuesday afternoon, in the lounge of the Santa Ana Ebell club by Earl G. Barr, who will lecture there each Tuesday and Thursday at 2:30 o'clock.

Mr. Barr, an engineer and head of the School of Wisdom, has been lecturing four times each week in the Masonic temple at Long Beach and will continue these talks, he has announced.

Discussing the movement of which he is the head, Mr. Barr said today that Sacred-Wisdom-Science is studied by the deeper and higher type of student because its teaches understanding of the secret doctrines and aids in unlocking ancient mysteries. Because of the religious nature of Sacred-Wisdom-Science, all lectures and classes, both public and closed, are conducted on the free-will offering basis.

SKELETON ADDS TO HALLOWEEN MOTIF

With a life-size skeleton topping the decorations, the M. W. A. hall was the scene of a spooky Halloween party for members of the Standard Life association last Friday night.

Mrs. Mary Jarret and Mrs. Vada Pankey were in charge of the arrangements. Coffee and pumpkin pie were served for refreshments.

Fortune telling and games were planned for the entertainment and a round of story-telling made the refreshment tables a merry scene. At the business meeting which followed the merry-making, Mrs. Pankey, Mrs. Clara McCord, Mrs. Agnes Collum and Mrs. Elizabeth Warren were elected delegates to the district convention to be held Nov. 9 in Compton. Mrs. Martha Schreff, local president, is also head of the district group and Mrs. Blanche Owens will act as musician.

Change of meeting date was made from second and fourth Fridays to first and third Thursdays.

NO HALLOWEEN PRANKS IN HELENA

HELENA, Mont., Oct. 28. (AP)—There'll be no Halloween pranks in Helena, police decided today. The city's two weeks of earth tremors have provided all the window rattling that jittery residents need for this year, the department said, announcing a strict ban on all usual stunts.

LAUNCH TWO DESTROYERS IN EAST

Public Invited Aboard
War Vessels Today;
Admiral To Speak

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28. (AP)—The tars of the fighting fleet played host to the citizenry today in a Navy day observance high-spotted by the launching of two fast destroyers and the laying of a heavy cruiser's keel at Philadelphia.

Along the seaboard, where a ship of the fleet was in port, the public was invited to go aboard and see how the sailors work and live. Shore stations also were opened to public inspection on this 15th Navy day.

Ships in East

Though the fleet is based on California ports, many of the vessels are on the eastern seaboard.

Henry L. Roosevelt, assistant secretary of the navy, traveled to Philadelphia for a speech in honor of the launching of the destroyers Cassin and Shaw, and the laying of the keel of the Wichita, last heavy cruiser allowed under the present treaties curbing naval strength. The launching was on a radio broadcast program, which also included a description of how recruits are put through the mill at the Great Lakes training station, Chicago.

The marines got out their bombing planes for a demonstration in Washington, while the Hudson river at New York City was selected as the scene of a submarine "crash dive" demonstration. From San Diego, Cal., a radio description of a man of war was in order.

Wireless Busy

Navy day really fell on Sunday, but the ceremonies were postponed until today because of the Sabbath. Yesterday the wireless waves carried staccato messages from ship to shore station and back again, as the navy prepared for the celebration.

Admiral Joseph M. Reeves, commander of the fleet, spoke from the U.S.S. Pennsylvania at San Pedro, inviting the public on board his ships. Admiral William H. Standley, chief of naval operations, will talk at Atlanta, Ga., tonight.

NEW METHODS IN SURGERY Doctor 'Nails' Broken Bones

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 28. (AP)—Bone specialists of the Pacific coast studied new weapons today in their fight against disease and deformity.

Their "classroom" was the University of California hospital and their "instructors" were some of the leading men of their own profession.

These specialists, here for the Western Orthopedic association convention, heard of new developments in the treatment of broken bones, advances in nerve surgery and achievements in overcoming effects of infantile paralysis.

Dr. Roger Anderson, Seattle, told his fellow physicians how he "nails" together the bones of patients with broken legs so that they are able to walk within three or four days.

Two small nails, made of silver wire, he said, are driven into the broken bones. The protruding ends of the nails then are connected with a metal bar and the whole encased in a small plaster cast. Almost as soon as the cast is thoroughly dry, the patients are able to leave the hospital and can walk with the aid of a cane. When the bones knit the cast, metal plate and nails are removed.

Dr. Anderson said there is no slipping of the bone ends, no pain, no stiffness.

Dr. Leo Mayer, chief surgeon of the New York hospital of joint diseases, told how persons who have suffered from infantile paralysis can be "almost entirely cured" by transplanting tendons to the affected parts.

"When the operation is done properly on a paralyzed foot, for example," Dr. Mayer said, "it produces a gait so nearly perfect as to escape detection even by trained observers."

The operation may be performed successfully, he said, on the feet, hands, shoulders, elbows, hips and knees.

Miss Josephine Ball, Soon to Wed Albert S. Paine, Inspires Party Series

Allison Honer Home Scene of Shower

Bridges Hall, Claremont, To Be Setting for Wedding Saturday

Miss Josephine Ball, attractive and popular daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry H. Ball, 111 West Seventeenth street, whose marriage to Albert S. Paine of Balboa, son of C. D. Paine of Lampasas, Tex., is scheduled for Saturday morning at 10 o'clock in Bridges hall, Claremont, is providing an incentive for a group of pre-nuptial parties. Earliest of these was a "gadget" shower given by Mrs. Allison Honer in her home, 2415 French street, last Friday evening.

The guests wrote a romantic story about the bride-elect, hemmed and initiated perky little panholders for her, and presented her with their favorite recipes with personal snapshots attached.

The shower gifts, ranging from pottery to pans for the new home, were presented in three travel-worn old satchels. One especially appreciated gift was a neatly-indexed cookbook from Mrs. Honer.

Miss Ball's sister, Mrs. William Hewitt (Maybelle Ball), of Davis, assisted in the hostess duties. Heart-molded ice cream rolls were served late in the evening with angel food cakes, nuts and candies. Autumn flowers decorated the home.

The guest list included Mrs. Harry H. Ball, mother, and Mrs. Lavina C. Williams, grandmother of the honoree; Mrs. D. D. Waynick, Mrs. O. S. Witt and Misses Mary Bruner, Marian Bruner, Mary Blakeman, Helen Schoenberg, Geraldine Cole and Berthie Barclay, Santa Ana; Mrs. Rider Meyers, La Crescenta; Mrs. Joseph Ferguson, Glendora; and Mrs. Fred Storey, Balboa.

MOTHERS' CLUB SPONSORS TALK

A nurse from Rhodesia, Africa, Miss Edith Fuller, will talk at a meeting of the Mothers' club of the First Congregational church to be held Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the parsonage, 205 West Twentieth street.

Miss Fuller is affiliated with the American board. Women and friends of the church are invited to attend.

Marian Martin Pajamas for Lounging or Sleeping Comfort!

PATTERN 9568

It's no concern of these pajamas—the use to which you put them, for they're equally agreeable to lounging or sleeping. They're smartly cut, prettily tailored, and such fun to make and wear you're sure to want more than one pair. Notice the deep waist yoke to clasp your hips snugly, and the sash for "back interest." Let's say you make a sleeping version in figured crepe, for now—flannel for warmth later. Then for cozy comfort when you relax and lounge, make them of a colorful cotton corduroy. The choice of sleeve length depends on you! Complete, diagrammed Marian Martin sew chart included.

Pattern 9568 may be ordered only in sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, 20, 30, 32, 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42. Size 16 requires 5 1/4 yards 36-inch fabric.

Send 15 cents in coins or stamps (coins preferred) for each Marian Martin pattern. Be sure to send plainly your name and address, the style number and size of each pattern.

Send today for our pattern book for fall and winter! See how easily and thriftily you can make attractive clothes for yourself and family, and what lovely yet simple gifts you can make for Christmas. Learn how you can choose and wear your clothes for greater charm! Price of book 15 cents. Book and pattern together, 25 cents.

Send your order to The Santa Ana Journal pattern department, 117 East Fifth street.

Betty Smith Is Lovely Bride of Norman Paul At 'Kirk'

Miss Elizabeth "Betty" Smith, daughter of Mrs. C. M. Featherly, 1916 North Ross street, was a very lovely little bride when she said "I do" to Norman Paul, widely-known athlete and son of Mrs. Ralph Paul, West Fourth street, Saturday morning at 8:30 o'clock in the picturesque Wee Kirk of the Heather in Glendale. The Rev. Mr. Shafer, Presbyterian minister of Glendale, officiated in the presence of some 30 guests.

The bride wore formal white satin, princess style with a slight train. She carried a fragile hand-made lace handkerchief loaned her by Mrs. Mayme Homan of Santa Ana and carried by Mrs. Roger Hearne (Virginia Bailey) of Riverside. Mrs. Manley Natland (Dorothy Diehl) and other popular Santa Ana girls at their wedding. Her tulle veil fell from a misty halo, and she carried gardenias and white sweet peas in a shower bouquet.

Her sister, Mrs. Thomas L. Renfro (Helen Smith) of Taft, matron of honor, wore apple green lace with brown accessories, and carried a sheaf of talisman roses. Howard Paul attended his brother as best man. Thomas Renfro and Norman Smith were ushers.

After the wedding the bridal party went to the home of C. M. Featherly's sister, Mrs. E. D. White, on North Broadway, where a long lace-covered table centered with a bowl of white flowers and festive with white appointments was in readiness for the wedding breakfast. A tiered wedding cake topped with a ring and doves was cut by the bride.

Mrs. Paul wore a jaunty suit of rust wool with brown accessories and squirrel coat when she left with her husband on a brief wedding trip, planning to return to their new home at 912 West First street. The home, completely furnished and gay with many shower gifts from her friends, was open for the inspection of the wedding guests.

The bride attended Santa Ana High school and at U. S. C. equalled the world's record in the low hurdles. He finished his fifth year's studies at U. S. C. last June and is now teaching in the night school in Santa Ana.

At the wedding, the bride's mother wore beige lace with chocolate brown accessories. Santa Ana and Costa Mesa. The bride wore black and Mrs. White, Du-bonnet crepe. Each wore a corsage in harmonizing autumn-toned flowers.

20 COUPLES ATTEND HALLOWE'EN DANCE IN DEARDORFF BARN

Twenty couples were entertained at a Halloween party given Saturday evening in the recreation barn on the Clyde Deardorff ranch, South McClay street, by Mrs. McClay's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Otto, and Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Wilcox, Costa Mesa.

The guests were from Los Angeles, Corona, Santa Ana and Costa Mesa. They spent the evening in games and dancing to amplified music.

At a late hour, the hosts served pumpkin pie, whipped cream, coffee and candies and nuts at a long table gay with Halloween decorations.

Guest Night Is Observed By Section

Annual guest night for husbands and friends brought 70 individuals and an exceptionally good program to the third travel section of Santa Ana Ebelle club, Friday evening in the clubhouse Peacock room.

Old English ballads interpreted by the Carillon trio, Rose Marie Flint and Faye Spicer, violinists, and Audrey Pieper, pianist, opened the program, which Mrs. C. P. Boyer announced.

Thomas Hall Glenn of Santa Ana Junior college English department described in an entertaining manner the Cambridge, Oxford and Shakespearean country in England. He showed motion pictures.

Punch and wafers were served late in the evening by Mesdames A. N. Cox, C. A. Westgate, S. A. Moore, M. C. Williams and W. P. Read. Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. F. P. Nickey, section leader, and Mesdames S. W. Nau and M. M. Holmes.

PLACENTIA GIRL MARRIED TO LONG BEACH MAN

Vaughn Neiman Walker of Placentia and Horace W. Green, Jr., of Long Beach were married in a simple ceremony at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gus Barnes, Placentia, Friday afternoon at 1 o'clock. The Rev. David J. Brigham of Placentia Presbyterian church officiated in the presence of the immediate families of the couple.

Autumn flowers and wedding bells decked the home. After the ceremony a dinner was served at the Anne Marie tearoom in Placentia.

Present were Mr. and Mrs. Gus Barnes, Mr. and Mrs. Horace W. Green, Sr., and Mr. and Mrs. Horace W. Green, Jr.

The bride couple left for an airplane trip to Catalina Island, planning to return to live in Long Beach. He is a prominent hardware man.

SOCIAL SECTION OF CLUB HAS HUSBANDS' PARTY

Members of the social section of the Woman's club of Santa Ana entertained their husbands at a pleasant evening of bridge Friday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Holman, 516 West 19th street.

Ten tables of contract and auction were in play. Prizes went to Mr. and Mrs. G. N. Coon, contract, and to Mrs. Earl Ladd and E. G. Maier, auction.

Halloween decorations were used, and in the supper hour a decorated birthday cake was given to Mr. Holman as a surprise courtesy.

Mesdames J. D. Watkins, E. A. Elwell and E. M. Waycott assisted in the hostessing.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY IS WISHED TO E. G. WARNER

E. G. Warner's birthday anniversary yesterday was doubly happy because of the dinner party at which Mrs. Warner entertained for him in their home, 1516 Willis street.

A big decorated birthday cake was given the honored man. The guests spent the day in visiting.

In the group were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Morse of Davenport, Wash.; Mrs. Warner's sister, Mrs. Nina Staples, Santa Ana; the Warners' son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Barnard of Pasadena, and Mr. and Mrs. Emy Williams of Costa Mesa.

SANTA ANANS GO TO FULLERTON SHOWER

When the Fidelis class of the Fullerton Baptist church honored Miss Eleanor Tate of that city at a shower recently, Mrs. C. A. Harp, daughter, Rosemary, and Mrs. R. C. Sidon of Santa Ana were among the guests.

Miss Tate, who has been a member of the Fullerton church since her life, is to be married to Richard Gerry of Camarillo. She is organist of the Baptist church. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Tate, who have lived in that city since they came from Kansas, 40 years ago.

Mrs. H. S. Berkeley and Mrs. C. A. Cuff poured at the tea table, which had been centered with a bouquet of pink roses and dark blue larkspur.

CHURCH CLASS HAS HALLOWE'EN FETE

Masqueraders thronged Berean hall last Friday night when 65 members of the Young People's Bible class of Calvary church held a party there.

Games were played and Halloween refreshments served. Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Burrows were co-chairmen.

Elks' Wives To Launch Parties

Opening the season of monthly bridge parties at the Elks' clubhouse, wives of officers of Lodge No. 794 will sponsor the first afternoon card event this Friday at 2 o'clock.

Plans for the event were made at the home of Mrs. Don Jerome, 2323 Bush street, last Friday evening. The committee in charge includes Mrs. Jerome, wife of the exalted ruler, and Mesdames V. L. Motry, Harold Brown, William Garvin, Ben Osterman, Ridley Smith, John Miller, Earl Abbey and E. R. Majors.

Hostesses for this week's party will be Mrs. Roy Langley, Mrs. Frank West, Mrs. John Miller and Mrs. Ridley Smith. Auction and contract will both be played. Prizes will be offered high score holders. Refreshments will be served. Decorations are to take a Thanksgiving motif. Reservations are to be phoned the committee in advance of the day.

GLENDALE CHAPEL IS SETTING FOR WEDDING OF COUPLE

Miss Mary Hoare, daughter of Mrs. Lydia C. Hoare, 836 East Raleigh, Glendale, and George Schomaker, 449 West Garfield, Glendale, son of Mrs. Jack Farland, 415 South Main street, Santa Ana, were married last Friday evening at 6 o'clock in the Wee Kirk of the Heather. The Rev. Arthur J. Hamilton of Los Angeles Christian church officiated. One hundred guests were present.

The bride wore navy blue petit point crepe with a small deep blue hat and face veil, and an orchid corsage.

Miss Lorraine Girard, maid of honor, wore gold crepe with brown trim and brown accessories and a talisman rosebud corsage.

Jack Giovanni was best man. Verne and Elmer Hager were ushers. Dr. Roland Diggle, organist, gave a short recital including "Annie Laurie" and the wedding march.

The bride couple, graduates of the Glendale High school, were honored with a reception in the bridegroom's mother's home. They will live in Glendale.

CHAPTER GJ PLANS TO SPONSOR SALE OF 'ELEPHANTS'

Members of chapter GJ of the P. E. O. Sisterhood who have "white elephants" at large in their homes are tidying them up in preparations for the rummage sale to be sponsored by the chapter Friday and Saturday at 411 West Fourth street.

Mrs. John Webster of Costa Mesa, chapter president, is in general charge of the sale, which she promises will feature numerous interesting items.

Proceeds will go into the chapter's welfare fund, and be used in holiday activities.

BERNICE MILES YUMA BRIDE OF LESLIE EVANS

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Evans (Bernice Miles) were married Saturday in Yuma, Ariz., and after a brief wedding trip are making their home this week in Santa Ana.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Miles, 1931 West Washington avenue, is a graduate of Santa Ana High school and an honor student, and has been attending Mount St. Mary's college, Westwood Hills.

Mr. Evans came to Santa Ana a year ago to take over the management of the soda fountain of the Walgreen store.

Mary Stoddard Girl Who Resents Advances of Teacher May Have Herself to Blame

By MARY STODDARD

Many's the gal who's draped a shapely limb on the professor's desk after class in the hopes of working him for a good grade in his class. She may respect the man's intellectuality, but she's pretty sure he's no different from any other man and will succumb to a bit of flattery as willingly as any other of the sex.

Sometimes the prof takes her too seriously and really treats her as a girl and not a student. In yesterday's mail came a letter from a girl whose difficulty may be partly her fault:

The Thinkers
Wherein women of the community express their views on topics of particular interest to women.

What are the advantages and disadvantages of belonging to a social fraternity in the freshman year of college?

Miss Lois Allen: There are both advantages and disadvantages, it helps one to become acquainted easier, but on the other hand, one might choose a different group if one took more time, and did not join the first fraternity that offered. In a large school it would seem to have more advantages than disadvantages.

Mrs. William Hirstein: It depends on the size of the school. In a small school where friends are made easily a social sorority seems of little use, but in a large school it is almost a necessity. National sororities of course are more desirable than local organizations, and would be of value in any school.

JOHN HARVEYS RETURN FROM EXTENDED TRIP

Mr. and Mrs. John A. Harvey, 1202 North Broadway, and Mr. and Mrs. W. V. Mathews of Laguna Beach, are home this week after a motor trip of more than 11,000 miles throughout the United States.

The group left Santa Ana Sept. 2 and motored up the west coast to Vancouver, B. C. Thence they went to Yellowstone National park, Chicago, Milwaukee, Niagara Falls, where they saw several Orange county friends, and Washington, D. C.

Driving down the east coast, they visited Miami, Fla., and decided not to go to Cuba because of the storms in that region, continued to New Orleans, saw the Carlsbad caverns, stopped at El Paso, viewed the Grand canyon and returned home.

Excellent roads and good weather added to the enjoyment of the trip, the Santa Anans report.

JACK GERRARD IS HOST TO FRIENDS AT EERIE PARTY

White sheets draped the furniture and green paper the lights in the Hugh Gerrard home on Victoria drive Saturday evening when Jack Gerrard, youngest son of the family, entertained with a Halloween party.

The guests played statuary, pinning the tail on the donkey, sardines, treasure hunt and spin the bottle. Jack's sisters, Misses Phyllis and Myrtis Gerrard, assisted in arranging the games.

Mrs. Gerrard served the young guests doughnuts and cider late in the evening.

Present were Beverly Bond, Ruth Ann Segerstrom, Betty Starkey, Lucille Crawford, Virginia Jordan, Martha George, Henry Segerstrom, Harry Harlow and Lloyd Groover.

66 Years Wed; J. F. Feldners Celebrate

Children, grandchildren and one great-grandchild helped Mr. and Mrs. Jacob F. Feldner celebrate their 66th wedding anniversary at their home, 705 West Chapman avenue, Orange, Saturday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Feldner were married in Woodsfield, Ohio, Oct. 26, 1869, and came to Orange in 1906, after living for some time in Iowa.

An unusual feature of the gathering was the presence of four generations, all with the last name of Feldner. They were Jacob Feldner; his son, William F. Feldner; grandson, Clyde Feldner, and a great grandson, Billy Feldner, three years old.

Jacob Feldner is 88 years old and his wife 84. Both enjoy good health. Many lovely bouquets were presented the couple by relatives and friends.

During the evening ice cream and cake were served the guests. Present were Mr. and Mrs. William F. Feldner, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Feldner, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Valente, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Feldner, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Feldner, Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Travers and Billy Feldner.

TWO ARE HONORED AT PARTY GIVEN IN GONZALES HALL

Mrs. Sol Gonzales, whose birthday anniversary was, and the Gonzales' houseguest, Mrs. E. J. Gastelum of Mazatlan, were dually honored at a party given by Mr. Gonzales Saturday evening in Gonzales hall.

Mrs. Gastelum and her daughter, Lily, left yesterday to return to their home after an extended visit in the Southland.

Miss Delphina Lopez, sister of Mrs. Gonzales, and Mrs. John Ortiz assisted in receiving the guests. Mr. Gonzales introduced the two honorees.

In a short program, Aaron Gonzales played a piano solo, "Tango composition, "Dime" (Tell Me). The guests danced to the recorded music of his orchestra. Refreshments were served.

Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Guy Gilbert, Mr. and Mrs. Lucas Lucio, Mr. and Mrs. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Chervy, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Cowman, Mr. and Mrs. John Ortiz, Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Weston, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Delgado, Mr. and Mrs. Sifuenti, Mr. and Mrs. Babcock, Gilbert Gonzales, Raul Gonzales, Mr. and Mrs. Lambert Towler, Miss Georgia Belle Walton, Miss Ruth Frothingham, Miss Rose Delgado, Miss Marie Labrucherie, Miss Josephine Villalobos, Mrs. Eloy Lucero, Frank Aguillo, Mrs. A. M. Sepulveda, Miss Kay Sepulveda, Miss Nellie Sepulveda, Mr. and Mrs. Barker, Miss Gillespie, Miss Marian Grant, Mrs. Belle Spangler and daughter, Loretta, of Santa Ana, and Fernando Almada and Marez Servatto of Baja California.

posed they were invited in for a foursome. At the close of the evening's entertainment, sandwiches and coffee were served, and gifts were presented to Mr. and Mrs. Walker. Mr. Walker has been transferred by his firm to Los Angeles.

Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Alder, Laguna Beach; Mr. and Mrs. Ray Van Compennelle, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Blaser, Mr. and Mrs. Ben De Smet, Mr. and Mrs. Binford Henry and Mr. and Mrs. William Noble, Jr., Santa Ana.

CLYDE WALKERS FETED AT PARTY IN LOY HOME

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Walker, soon to leave for Los Angeles, were given a farewell party late last week in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Loy, 320 West Seventeenth street.

The affair was a surprise to Mr. and Mrs. Walker, who sup-

ORANGE JUICE

THIS is Valencia week. And because the word Valencia means our wherewith in Orange county, it is well to take stock of what the present and the future hold for us in the shape of the nation's ability to buy our fruit.

One thing is definite and certain, if evidence and opinion are to be relied upon. We are emerging from the depression, slowly but most certainly. There are even those who believe we are headed for a boom. We hope the latter prediction is pure fancy, but it prevails in some quarters, and there is no denying the fact that inflation and huge federal reserve surpluses are taking us that way.

One has but to glance at the financial page of the Sunday Los Angeles Times, a newspaper which does not enjoy printing happy news about the Roosevelt administration's influence on the state of the nation. Here are a few headlines in yesterday's Times:

"AUTO TRADE RALLY STIRS." "Business Recovery Seen as Keeping on Upgrade." "Broad Gains on 'Exchange.'" "Ambassador (hotel) in Black Ink." "Warner Film to Show Profit in Operating Year." "California Municipals Average Up." "Sun Oil Votes Extra Dividend." "Power Utility Shows Profit." "Spring Street Bullish in Opinions on Market." and so on.

Stocks have been bullish for some time. And those who believe they have the inside say the end is far off.

Whether any of these are permanently wholesome signs, only the future will determine. But it is a fact that those persons who have food products to sell next year have every reason to expect an ever-expanding market, with corresponding increases in prices. It is evident industry took the President at his word when he promised a "breathing spell."

Saturday's favorable vote on the corn-hog referendum would indicate the Middle West has not become badly estranged and is ready to carry on with the A.A.A. We suspect both industry and agriculture are accepting the President's policies and promises with tongues in their cheeks, but accepting they are, whether they admit it or not.

IN SPITE of last week's big blow, Southern California citrus growers have anything but gloom ahead of them. They have experienced adversity before, and generally have come out of it far better than seemed possible at the moment. We were faced this year with what seemed to be a surplus which could not be absorbed. It was an all-time record of production increase. Sixty per cent of the increase was in California. Prompt action on the part of the California Fruit Growers' Exchange did much to overcome the handicap. Instead of crying about it, its executives immediately sought new market channels. Like the good business men that they are, they enlarged their advertising program immediately, resulting in a domestic sales expansion of more than 15 per cent. They could have said: "Well, business isn't very good; we are not going to spend any more money until it is better." And they would have ended the year with apologies and tears.

The citrus business isn't an overnight affair. It isn't something to be into today and out of tomorrow. It has its fat years and its lean years, and the latter aren't to be compared with lows in most other forms of agriculture.

So it is a good thing to look the future squarely in the face and pick up the wind-blown oranges. There's a lot of juice in them and in other phases of the citrus industry if you squeeze hard enough.

Says the Yorba Linda Star: These boys who are shouting about paying four bits a pound for pork chops might try selling oranges for $2.25 a box for a while. You can always pity the consumer until you get to be a producer.

PUBLIC-SPIRITED MR. HEARST

HAVING done all that five newspapers can to impose the bulk of the state tax burden on the little fellow by fostering the sales tax, William Randolph Hearst now announces that he will leave the state to escape paying his share of the comparatively small part of state revenues that must be raised by taxing incomes.

California's richest man has money for an entire village of Swiss chalets on his 50,000 acres in Shasta county, complete with accommodations for scores of guests. He has money for the fabulous principality at San Simeon, where his spending outdoes that of any East Indian prince.

But Mr. Hearst has no money to contribute in income tax to the desperate needs of his native state—the state from which his inherited fortune was derived, and the people of which to this day pay him millions in profits.

Let the housewife buying clothes for her family contribute her pennies in sales tax to pay for the upkeep of state institutions, the cost of old age pensions, the schools and universities. So in effect says Mr. Hearst, on his way to New York or Europe or wherever his fancy leads him. And to make his devotion to California doubly clear, he warns other men of wealth to stay away, and invites New York and Florida to bid our movie industry away from us.

Mr. Hearst's solution of the tax problem is very simple, but we wonder how far it will take him. On the same day when he announced his departure from California his papers warned that federal expenditures are eating up all revenues and sapping the life out of the nation. Plainly, Mr. Hearst cannot stop in New York. He must get clean out of the United States. Nor can he choose any civilized country of Europe, for if California's moderate new income tax is too much for him that of England or France would floor him completely.

Whimsies of O. O. McIntyre

Diary: To breakfast came Nina Ayres, Pauline Taylor and Polly Grimes. Later talking to W. S.

O. O. McIntyre

Mudd, who wrote "The Old Boat Rocker," and up the avenue in a sudden skip of a train to sit with Riley Cooper, just back from his Buffalo Bill assignment in Hollywood.

Home and a spring of the most exotic poses ever I saw from Irene Hayes, a bird of paradise effect, and Ewing Galloway bargled by, newly from Kentucky on his first vacation in 15 years. Typing a stretch and to Margaret and Brock Pemberton's tea.

Dinner with my lady at a place we selected in passing because it looked cozy, called Chez Jean, and I squandered a pretty sum for crepes Suzette. So to Conde Nast's where came a mighty gathering to celebrate new operative honors that have befallen George Gershwin.

Royal Brown is regarded by magazine editors as the ace of the "love interest." His dreamy canoe drifting in the moonlight romances are sure fire circulation builders and his career an epic of courage in affliction. As a Boston reporter 20 years ago he became stone deaf. He now lives in a fling of portable houses along a bleak stretch of Cape Cod, a life of shy remoteness. He married a girl reporter whose lips he has learned to read and she is interpreter when editors call. Brown, now 50, away from his typewriter spends most of his time in a fast motor boat.

Josephine Baker, the sand-toned gal from deep Harlem who went to Paris, became a famous dancer and annexed a waxed mustache Italian count, finds her return to America something of a triumph. And has been invited to many smart teas and after theater binges. She appears in gasping exclamations and rattles away in French like a born Parisian. Josephine has salted her earnings, too. And has a peck of jewels to boot.

Personal nomination for the most expertly typed man-about-town—William Rhinelandier Stewart.

Ex-King Alfonso seeks Americans almost solely in his lighter moments in Europe. His special liking for Yankees began when Alexander Moore became American ambassador to his country. Through Moore he became familiar with draw poker and later chummy with several Americans, including Ewing Galloway, for in cogito rounds of Paris. For several years he has been eager to visit the states, particularly Hollywood. He is a pronounced movie fan and among his favorites are Loretta Young, Marion Davies, Joan Crawford and Ruth Chatterton. For laughs he likes the flitterings of Edward Everett Horton.

The most auspicious up-from-the-sidewalk hero of the night clubs is Eddie Gaar, the impersonator, now wangling fat pay as a polished floor entertainer in evening dress and silk hat. Not many years ago he was a night club emcee, but in one of the most conspicuous posts. He opened and closed auto doors for arriving and departing guests.

The Rialto again has two of its former stage favorites—Lee Tracy and Jimmy Durante—after several sabbatical years in Hollywood. In the manner of Walter Huston, another forthright actor who won film distinction, they come back to their early love. Like Huston, they were appearing in too many pictures and too often miscast. Huston's experiment resulted in a flood of new movie offers.

Bagatelles: Dean Harper, of the Texas university, is a red tie fancier. . . . Frank R. Adams was the last of Ray Long's friends to see him alive. . . . Morris Gest appeared in the London Savoy recently without fuzzy hat and black bow tie. . . . Nobody recognized him. . . . Lily Pons' parrot can imitate Pop-Eye the Sailor Man. . . . Frazier Hunt started for the Ethiopian war on two hours' notice.

Bob Davis was talking about the pressing of red-hot profanity. It's rarely heard any more, save on barges and docks. As a matter of fact, some of the most sizzling epithets are cusswords. We had a grizzly, choleric character—Grandpa used to say he looked as though he had been chewing tobacco all day against a strong wind—in our town, who, when angry, would snort: "Snarfrocket!" Try it out loud the next time you fly into a real rage. It's the real thing.

TESTS CHARCOAL AUTO

TOKYO, (AP)—The Japanese army, always seeking to lessen dependence on foreign—chiefly American and British—sources of oil and gasoline, is assisting inventors of an automobile driven by charcoal gases. Tests of a model capable of running 140 miles on 65 pounds of charcoal were reported to promise early success.

The Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—President Roosevelt is a fairly regular correspondent with King George of England. The letter writing began after the President's mother was a guest of King George and Queen Mary, and Roosevelt wrote personally to thank them. Since then he has continued to pen in his own hand an occasional letter to the British monarch. . . . War and navy department chiefs are planning to take advantage of the war-threatening situation in Europe to launch preparedness drives at the coming session of congress. Bills providing for an expanded army and navy are now being quietly whipped into shape. . . . Florida's hard-working senior Senator Dunbar received the following letter from a worried constituent: "This is to let you know I am against the Townsend old-age scheme. I have too many other things to worry about without being compelled by the government to spend $200 a month." . . . Any doubt as to whether Representative Fred M. Vinson would again sponsor the American Legion's bonus bill at the coming session was dispelled last Sunday. Led by National Commander Ray Murphy, a delegation of state and national veteran leaders journeyed to Ashland, Ky., to participate in a home-town rally staged for Vinson, at which he was acclaimed as the Legion's ball-carrier on the bonus. . . . Thirty-one-year-old Blackwell Smith, retired NRA legal chief, has been succeeded by another youth. He is Burr Tracy Ansell, 29-year-old Harvard law graduate, who broke into the news last spring when he took a sock at the late Huey Long in a crowded Washington dining room. . . . Federal trade commission insiders predict that Col. Charles H. March will be the next chairman of the agency. Judge Ewin L. Davis, present chairman, will step down Jan. 1, in accordance with FTC procedure of rotating the chairmanship.

DOCTOR WALLACE TWO of the nine elaborate suites of offices in the new supreme court building are vacant. Justices McReynolds and Brandeis prefer to do their work at home. . . . It is a struggle for Henry Wallace to avoid the practice of medicine. Last spring he sent to his Iowa friend, Congressman Fred Bierman, a bottle of allantoins as a possible cure for the foot ulcers that had kept Bierman on crutches. It acted like a miracle. Since then Wallace and his department's Dr. William Robinson, have been flooded with requests for the medicine. (Note: Robinson discovered the healing effect of allantoins from experiments with maggots. Knowing that maggots are used by physicians to heal wounds, he tried to find what gave them that power. It proved to be the substance allantoins, which maggots discharge as they work their way through a wound.) . . . Robert Fechner doesn't get excited when he hears that mutiny has broken out in one of his CCC camps, as it frequently does. "It must be the cook," he says, knowing that he is spending 50 cents a day on each member, as compared with 27 cents a day spent on transients in FERA camps. . . . A good part of the 6600 pounds of soap powder bought each year for scouring the capitol is being applied these days in a high-powered house-cleaning operation, to be completed before congress convenes. . . . Minnesota's blind Senator Schall takes his exercise by riding horseback in a Washington suburb.

RADIO PROBE

THE investigation of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company by the federal communications commission may be expanded at the coming session to include radio networks and independent radio stations. Several senators, who put over the A. T. & T. probe, are much aroused over numerous complaints of discrimination and censorship by radio operators, and are talking of opening fire on them with a sweeping investigation. . . . In a telegram sent to a number of coal companies asking for urgently needed statistical information, the officially hard-up bituminous coal commission intimated: "Please do not reply collect, as we have no funds to pay for your answer." . . . Bureau of labor statistics employment figures for September showed such a marked gain that Commissioner Lubin would not believe them. He telegraphed for a check by the 135,000 manufacturers throughout the country who supply the data on which the monthly report is based. This delayed the statement several days, but Lubin refused to issue it until he had satisfied himself that the original booming figures were correct.

COMPTROLLER GENERAL McCARL is reported to be quietly grooming his counsel, O. R. McGuire, as his successor. Like his boss, McGuire is a New Deal foe, co-authored with ex-Congressman James M. Beck a critical book, "Our Wonderland of Bureaucracy." His latest attack is an article in the law journal of the American Bar Association assailing the administration's spending policies. . . . It looks as if Massachusetts' silent Senator Marcus Coolidge will have his hands full next year trying to get re-elected. On the heels of the announcement by Henry Cabot Lodge, grandson of the late senator, that he will seek the Republican nomination, comes word that Representative Bill Connery, dynamic chairman of the house labor committee, plans to wrest the Democratic nomination from Coolidge. . . . Despite the laudatory exclamations of President Bill Green, the A. F. of L. convention at Atlantic City displayed marked coolness toward the New Deal. When Roosevelt's telegram of greeting was read there was only perfunctory applause among the delegates.

Saturday was only Saturday to the rest of the country, but in 10 corn-belt states it was a crucial balloting occasion. More than half a million corn-hog raisers voted in the sixth referendum on whether the Triple-A crop control program shall be continued next year. The AAA officially disclaims any idea of influencing the voting, but actually took no chances. All its literature argued for a continuance of the present program. . . . Announcement by the postoffice that it will issue a special stamp to commemorate the Texas bicentennial has resulted in a deluge of suggestions for the design. Some propose a likeness of Sam Houston, others a picture of the historic Alamo, still others want a reproduction of the Lone Star flag.

The People

INTERNATIONAL TROUBLE

Editor The Journal:

In your paper I have read another atrocity about German sportsmanship. I am very sorry to say, that you fell in line with so many so-called American news editors to kill the spirit of better international understanding especially to kill the participation of American people in the German Olympic games.

We are about fed up with rotten Jewish propaganda. Dear sir, if your paper is free of Jewish domination and influence, then we expect of you to print these enclosed stories about facts in Germany in your paper. These leaflets reached me only a few days ago from Hamburg, Germany, my home town; besides, I would like to see just one clean American newspaper in Orange county! Very sincerely yours,

MRS. ANNA FELDNER, 638 E. Almond Ave., Orange Calif.

P. S. Professor Einstein's speech is nothing else but make America ripe for Communism! For that same reason he was invited by Hitler to leave Germany in 24 hours! I wonder how long he is allowed to fool American people.

EDITOR'S NOTE.—The article complained of in the foregoing letter was an Associated Press dispatch, unbiased and without the suggestion of propaganda, which is characteristic of Associated Press handling of the news. The leaflet the writer incloses is admittedly Nazi propaganda in which the Jews are referred to in language which is not lawful to use in American newspapers. Hence The Journal, even if it so desired, is unable to print it.

SENATOR OLSON'S SPEECH

Editor The Journal:

I was astonished to find myself quoted in your issue of Oct. 23 as saying, at the Olson dinner at James cafe Tuesday evening: "The Epics are waiting for Senator Olson to tell them who to vote for."

Now there may be Epics, deficient in a sense of humor, who would read that statement and, not knowing me, might believe that I had said it.

Perhaps to those of your readers who do not know my Epics it would seem quite the proper thing, or at least nothing extraordinary, nothing to get excited about, for everybody knows that somebody at the head of things usually does tell voters how to vote.

I realize, also, that the political horizon is being anxiously scanned for dark clouds and this statement implies that they are becoming increasingly hard to find.

But the Epics are different. Epics are peculiarly headstrong and self-opinionated when it comes to voting. In fact that is one of the main objections reactionary friends in both the Democratic and Republican parties have to the Epics. They complain that it is impossible to tell an Epic anything, least of all, who to vote for. Another characteristic Epics have, which puts them beyond the pale as violators of time-honored voting ethics, is that of voting for a plan and not for a leader.

Senator Olson has come out for the plan—production for use for the unemployed—and by so doing has won the support of the Epics as the leading Democratic statesman of California.

In justice to Senator Olson, therefore, as well as to the Epics and to me I trust you will print this letter in correction of a statement so unflattering to him which would, if it were true, brand his supporters as a hopeless bunch of nit-wits. Please accept our thanks for your good report of the meeting. Thanking you, sincerely yours,

MRS. BARBARA M. BROOKS.

G. E. Dean and son, M. F. Dean, are here from Clinton, Wis. They are guests of E. D. Guernsey and family, who are relatives. The Epics are delighted with Santa Ana and vicinity, and have about decided to make this place their future home.

Oswald Neville and wife of Estherville, Iowa, formerly of Osage, Iowa, are visiting old-time friends in Santa Ana, among whom are J. W. Elliott and wife, Mr. and Mrs. George L. Wright and Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Austin.

NEW YORK.—The American team defending the Gordon Bennett trophy, the premier event of the International Aviation tournament at Belmont Park tomorrow, will be Walter R. Brookings, J. Armstrong Drexel and Charles K. Hamilton. Brookings will fly the new Wright racer; Drexel will use a Blériot monoplane, and Hamilton will be mounted on his new 110 horsepower Halimontian.

EASTAMPTON.—Maurice Tabureau today broke the world's aviation record for time and distance by flying 289 miles in six hours on a continuous trip.

The birthdays of Mrs. E. T. Langley and her son, C. C. Langley, falling upon the same day, the anniversaries were celebrated at the latter's home yesterday with a pleasant family dinner at noon. Much merriment was caused by the hunting for the gifts of the honored guests, which were hidden by the babies of the household.

One Man's Opinion

By Duncan Ellsworth Clark

EDITOR'S NOTE.—Here is an informative, analytical daily feature on current topics. The opinions expressed in this column are not necessarily the same as those held by The Journal.

Man's Boasted But Dubious "Improvements" MANY of man's boasted "improvements" turn out to be losses instead of gains. Getting a big idea of forcing nature to yield bigger returns, he finds that previous values are slipping from him and that all his smartness brings nothing but empty monuments to remind him of his greed and folly.

THE immensely valuable salmon fisheries of the northwest are threatened with extinction. The government's great dams on the Columbia and its branches have barred the salmon from their spawning fields. Engineers have constructed ingenious fish ladders and elevators to hoist the salmon over the barriers, but the silly fish refuse such aids. Congress appropriated three million dollars to solve the problem but no solution is in sight.

Salmon refuse to change their ancient habits. No spawning means no young salmon. No young salmon means no big salmon, and the whole canning industry faces destruction. The dams may contribute to other sources of wealth, but this very important source will be entirely destroyed.

TO GET more agricultural lands for exploitation, when there was already too much and to spare, swamp lands all over America have been drained. Game

SKINNY SKRIBBLES

Around and About Town

With C. F. (Skinny) SKIRVIN

Saturday forenoon before four-somes start for the Country club. Intermittent attention to business. Arrangements for personnel, and a little shifting because some particular individual couldn't get away, or didn't fit into the quartet. An occasional challenge, and for what? You see the business office opened at 8:30 a. m., and by the time you talked about the match "over the coffee," answered a few calls to inform an anxious inquirer what happened the night before, removed a professional apron or affixed the old signature to the payroll checks, both the minute and the hour hand had tied for 12 o'clock. It was time to start.

But see what you missed, you golf goofs. My predilections required a few definite objectives. I just had to go places and see things. Now for example here was an uninvited but not an objectionable observation. Across the street young lady stops for a knee-stretching adjustment. An inherent chivalry suggested an assist, but evidently she did not need the kind of support which came within my mechanical repertoire. Boy, that girl had a quick pick-up. Before I could get to her she had made satisfactory repairs and was on her way.

Why say, I wouldn't exchange downtown Santa Ana for a flock of golf courses. By the time you guys get to Eddie Martin's airport so many incidents come within my observation that I'm contemplating the organization of another club. You know organizing is getting down to mental science. Look what Brother Townsend started. My idea would be to organize an "Observation Club," and collect fines for every look. It's about the only way I know to meet my obligations, and return dividends to the members. I believe in giving the boys something for their money.

Of course your afternoon off slows down our afternoon on, and it's more difficult to collect copy. There is less information and imagination. You must have both to get any place. Sometimes it would be better if we had more information. But we still have the record left by Solomon. It helps if you let it. But the old boy weakened occasionally in his own wisdom, and my research department reports he was only about 50 per cent golf player.

Solomon may not have known his golf but he knew his women. He acquired territory not through physical conquest but extended his dominions by marrying the women of neighboring principalities, including a daughter of Pharaoh. No wonder that bird acquired wisdom. The old Lothario just merged women and territory as a diversion and conversion. And was he smart? He could leave 'em at home or abroad.

If I had browsed with Solomon for another 30 minutes I might have started for the golf club myself. There is something seductive about the old boy's life. He got an early start and a quick finish, but what a life between those points. At 14 he was on the throne, and off sometime later.

I was going to get a legal report on Solomon, but Burr Wellington was helping entertain the old-timers at the country club, and anyway Sol's name isn't on the list of active members. So let's skip it, and devote the rest of the day to Art May and Howard Rapp. Now there's a name for a golf player. By the way, I didn't forget 'em even when they got to my size. I was among those invited, and also those absent. I inspected the roster so in case of acceptance I would feel like I was among old friends. Absence makes the heart grow fonder. The stars on old Hennessey's team were among those missing. My despondency was so great that I couldn't get farther than Delhi.

Maybe my profession has ruined my appetite for golf. By the time I covered the political subdivision, pushed an inquisitive proboscis into places acceptable and otherwise, I was always so weary that rest and refreshments appealed to me more than a moveable ball which didn't know where it was going when it started, or whether it would ever be able to come back.

Then you are playing with a bunch of fellows who are always under suspicion. Why, you got to put your name on the ball so you'll be sure of gettin' it back. What if we all played golf? Reminds me of the land to hastening ill's away, where we play golf instead of making hay. They may have another "Old Times Day," but if they get me they'll have to come after me and bring me back again. Just confidential like, you know why I didn't go? No one offered to buy my dinner. I wouldn't want you to say anything, because someone may agree to do so next time.
